These are the times:
They are different
They are Now ...
Today—not tomorrow or yesterday
Here is the complete picture.

Time to relax, to work.

- ... dancing to underground or soul music
- ... painting signs, pictures, your room
- ... watching T.V.
- ... performing to make extra money
- ... working to buy a car, go to college

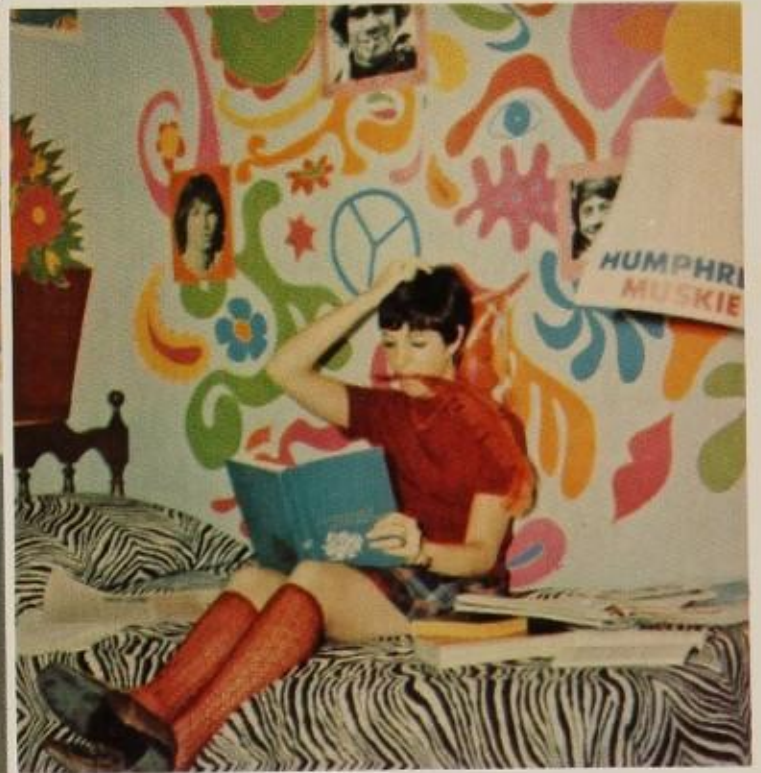

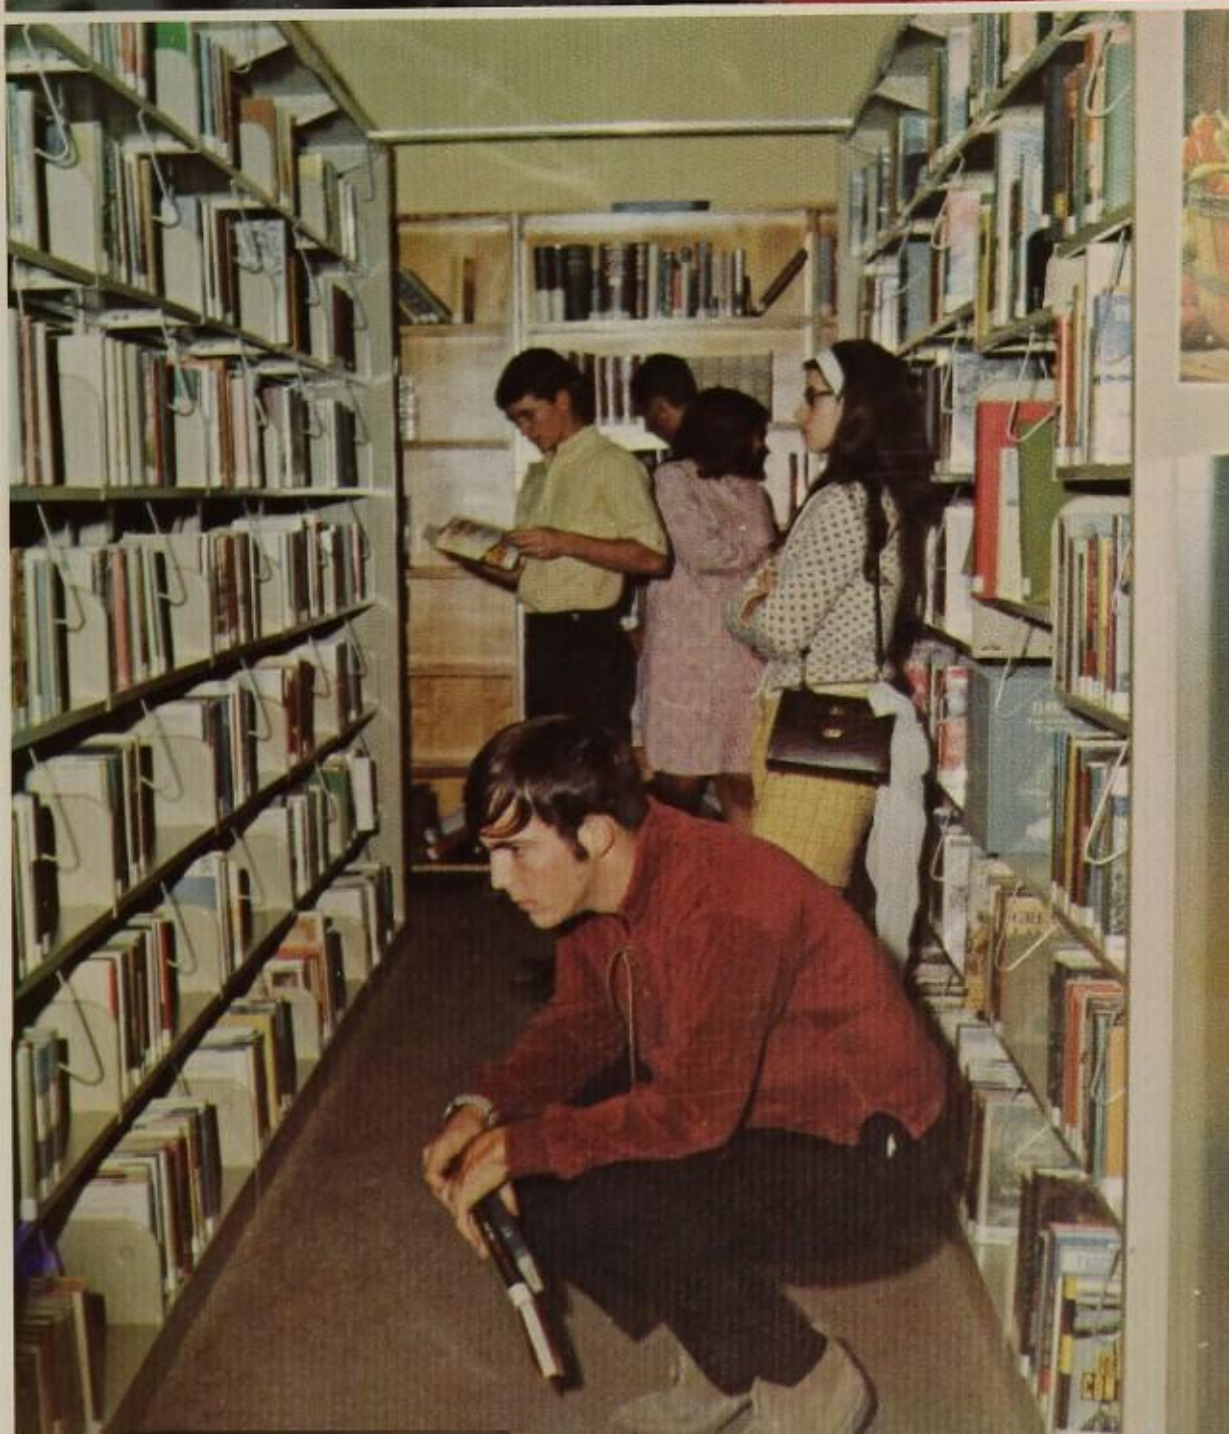

Time to learn, to play.

- ... studying when you don't want to
- ... playing games
- ... learning by doing
- ... investigating by researching
- ... puzzling over the unknown

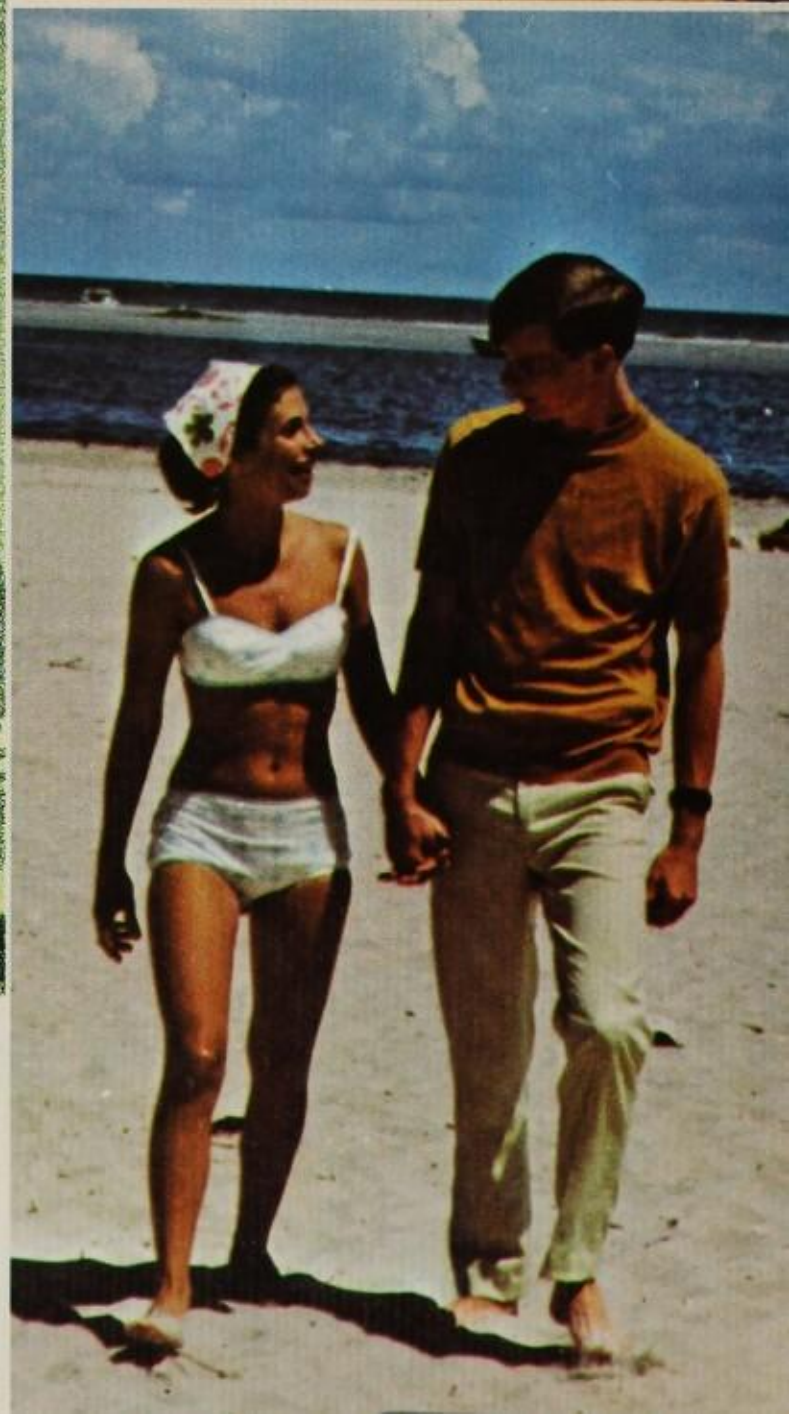

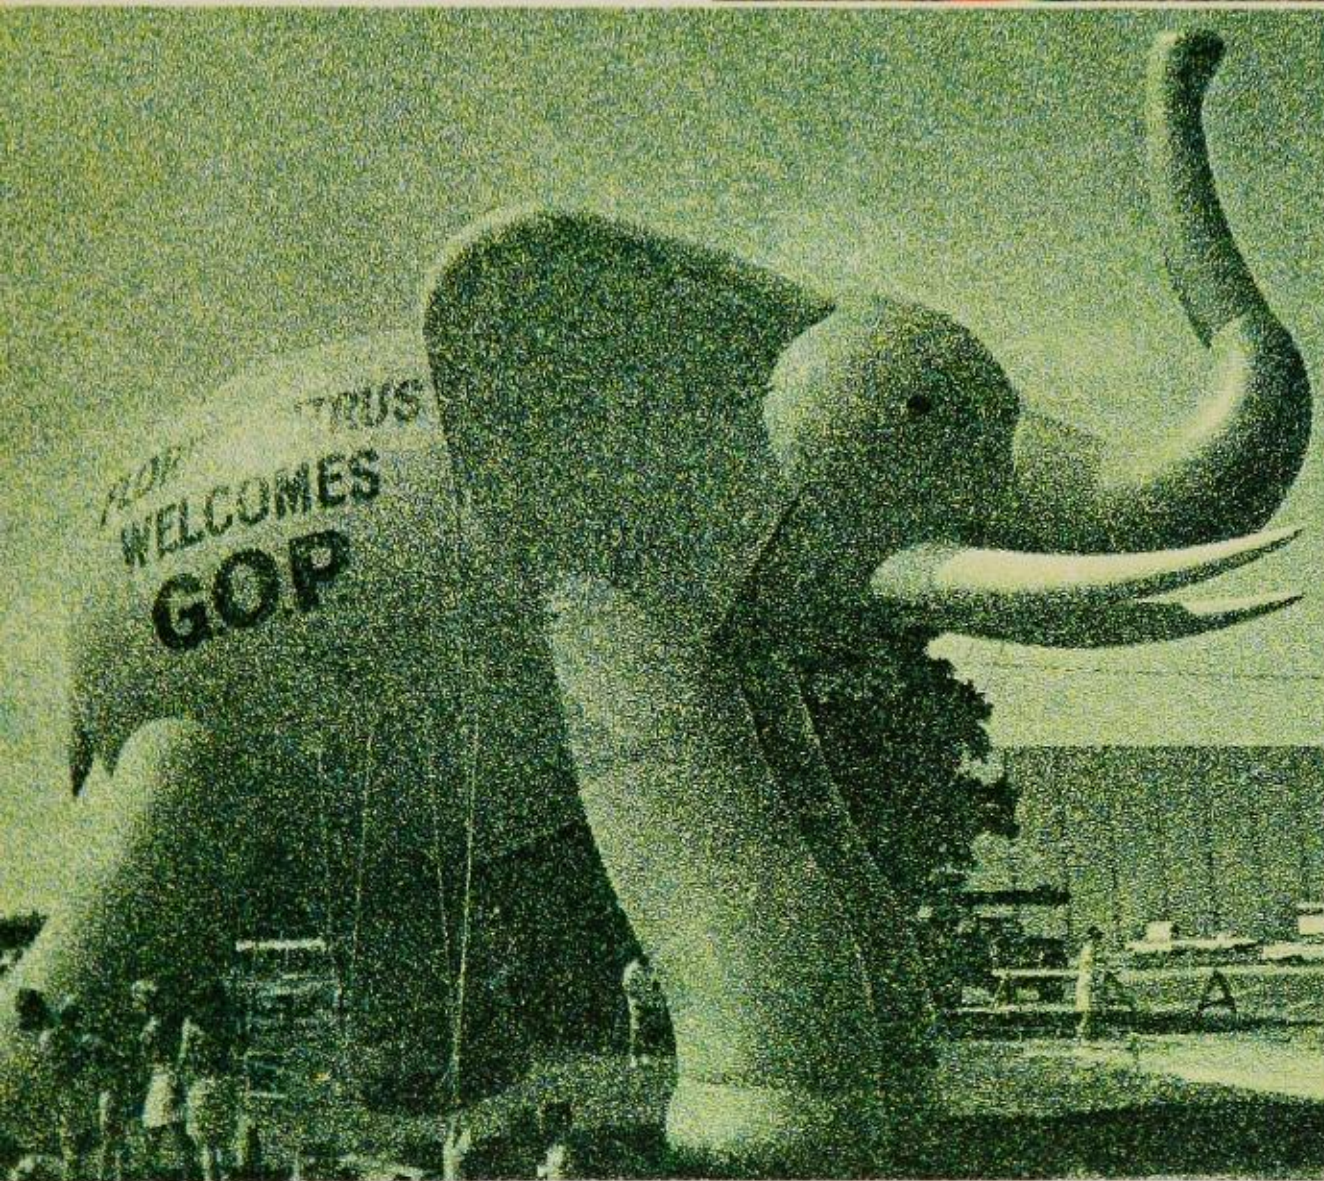

Time of emotion.

- ... taking pride in what is yours
- ... being bored
- ... getting angry
- ... liking someone's company
- ... worrying about nothing—or everything

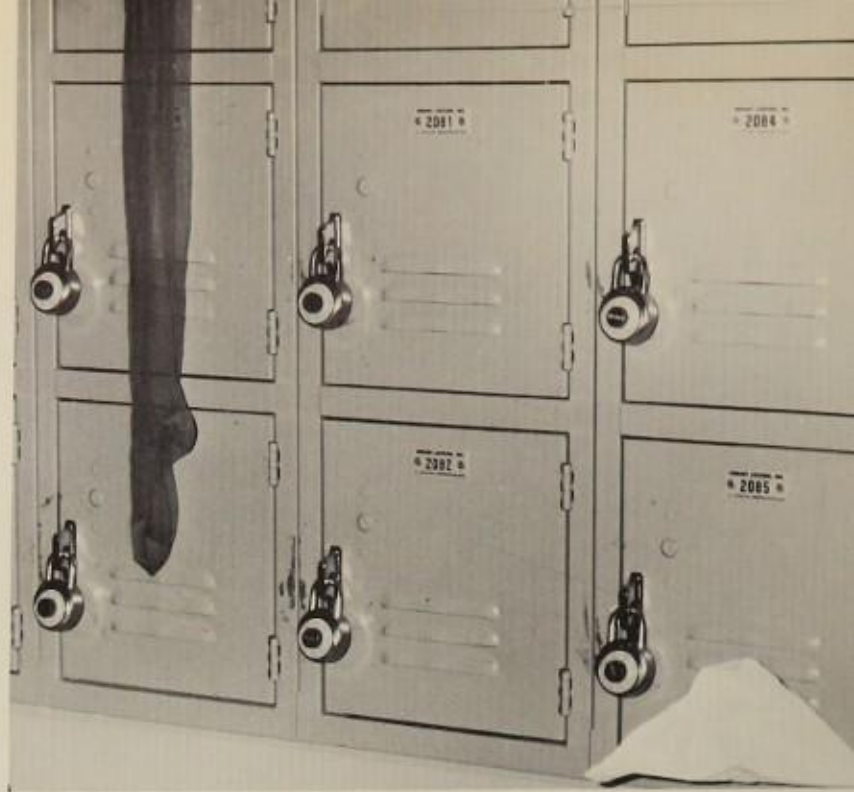

Summer

- ... holding hands at the beach
- ... volunteering your time
- ... shopping for clothes
- ... anticipating the Republican Convention
- ... working for needed money
- ... loafing

September

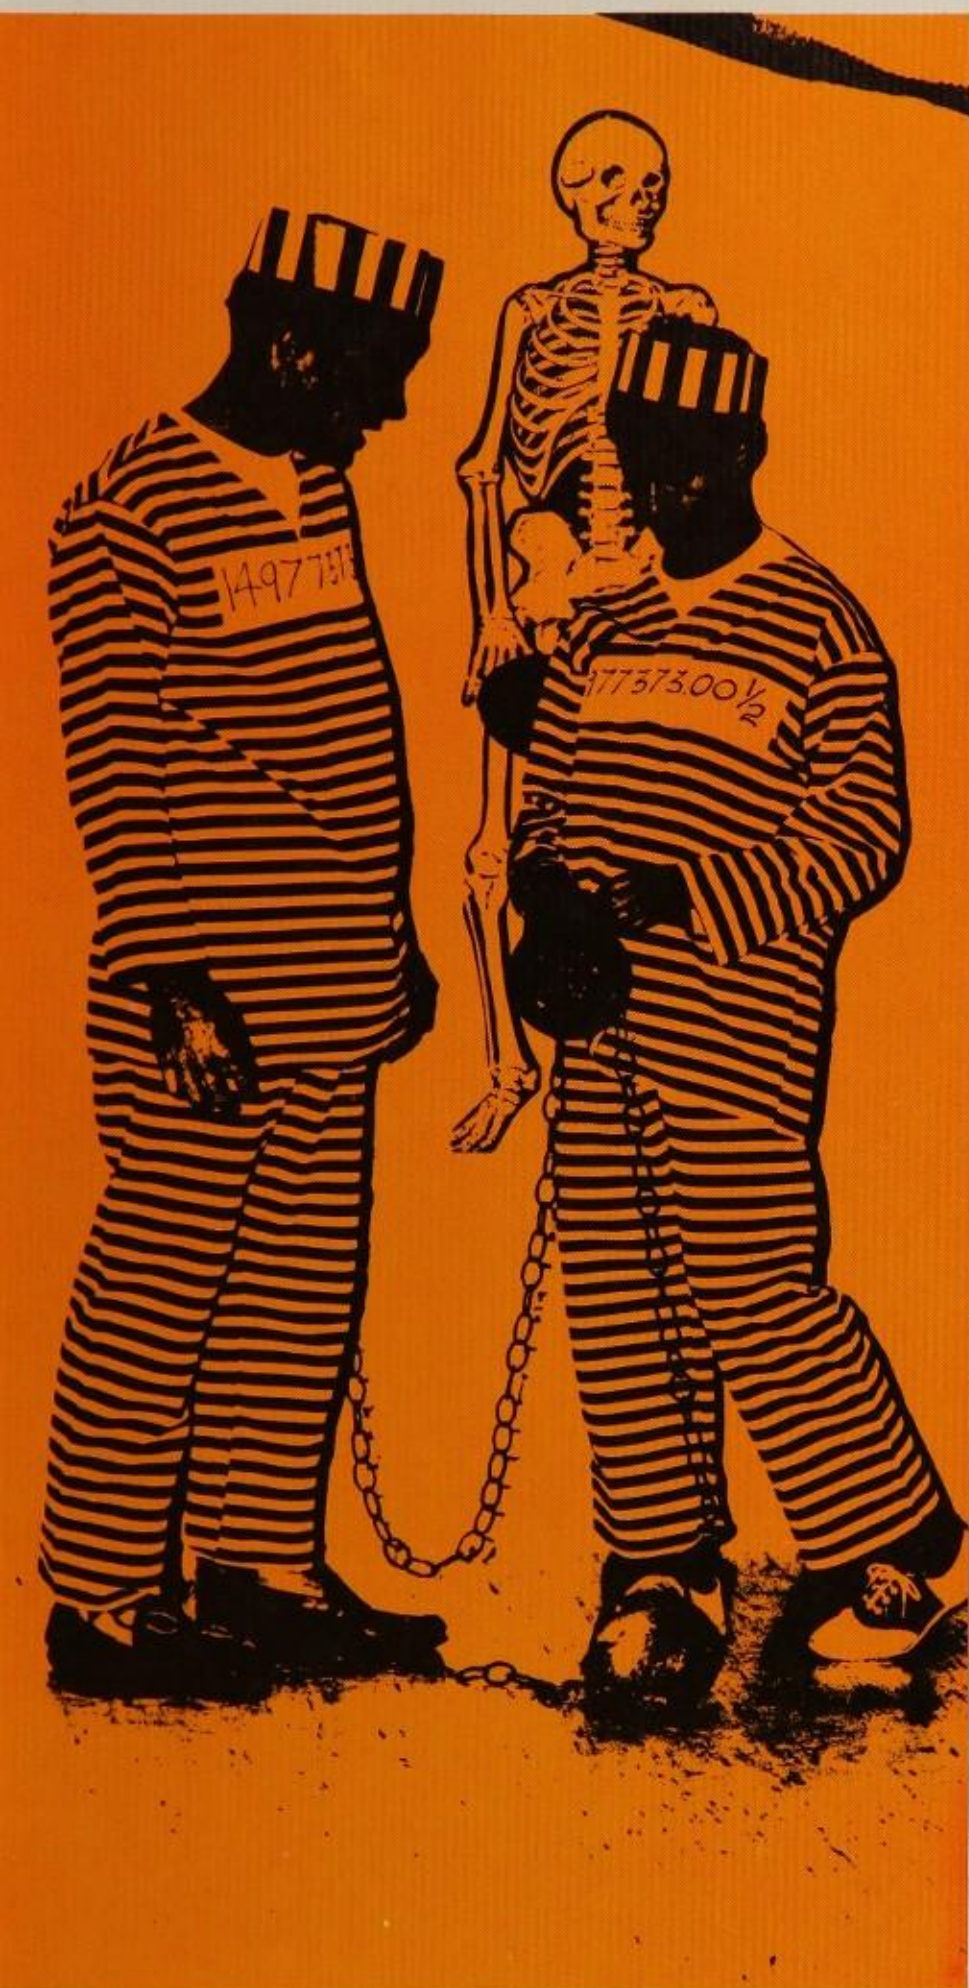

- ... running into old friends
- ... meeting new teachers
- ... eating school food
- ... getting lost
- ... rushing to catch the bus
- ... settling down to do homework
- ... hijacking to Cuba

October

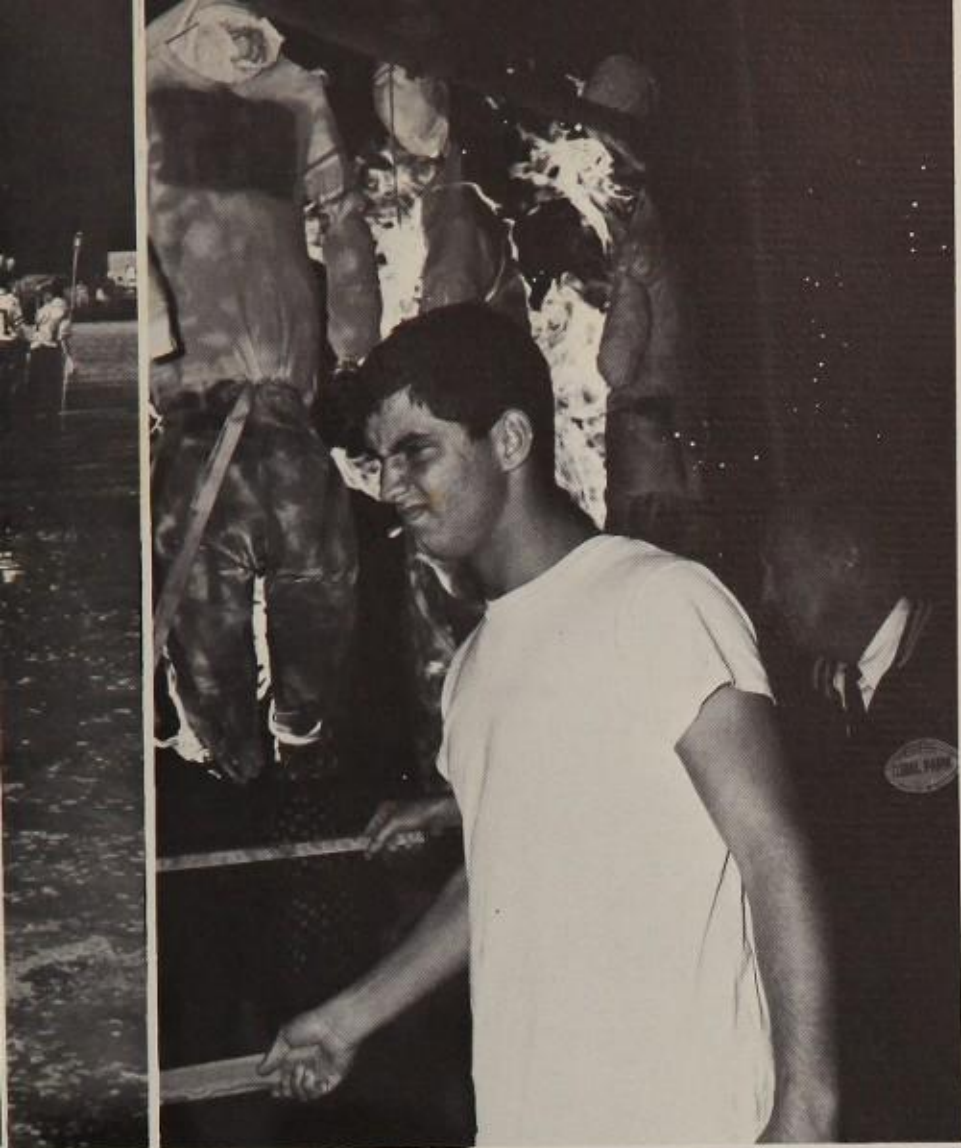

- ... going to pep rallies
- ... campaigning for presidential candidates
- ... decorating for the Southwest game
- ... beating Southwest
- ... going to football games
- ... tricking or treating

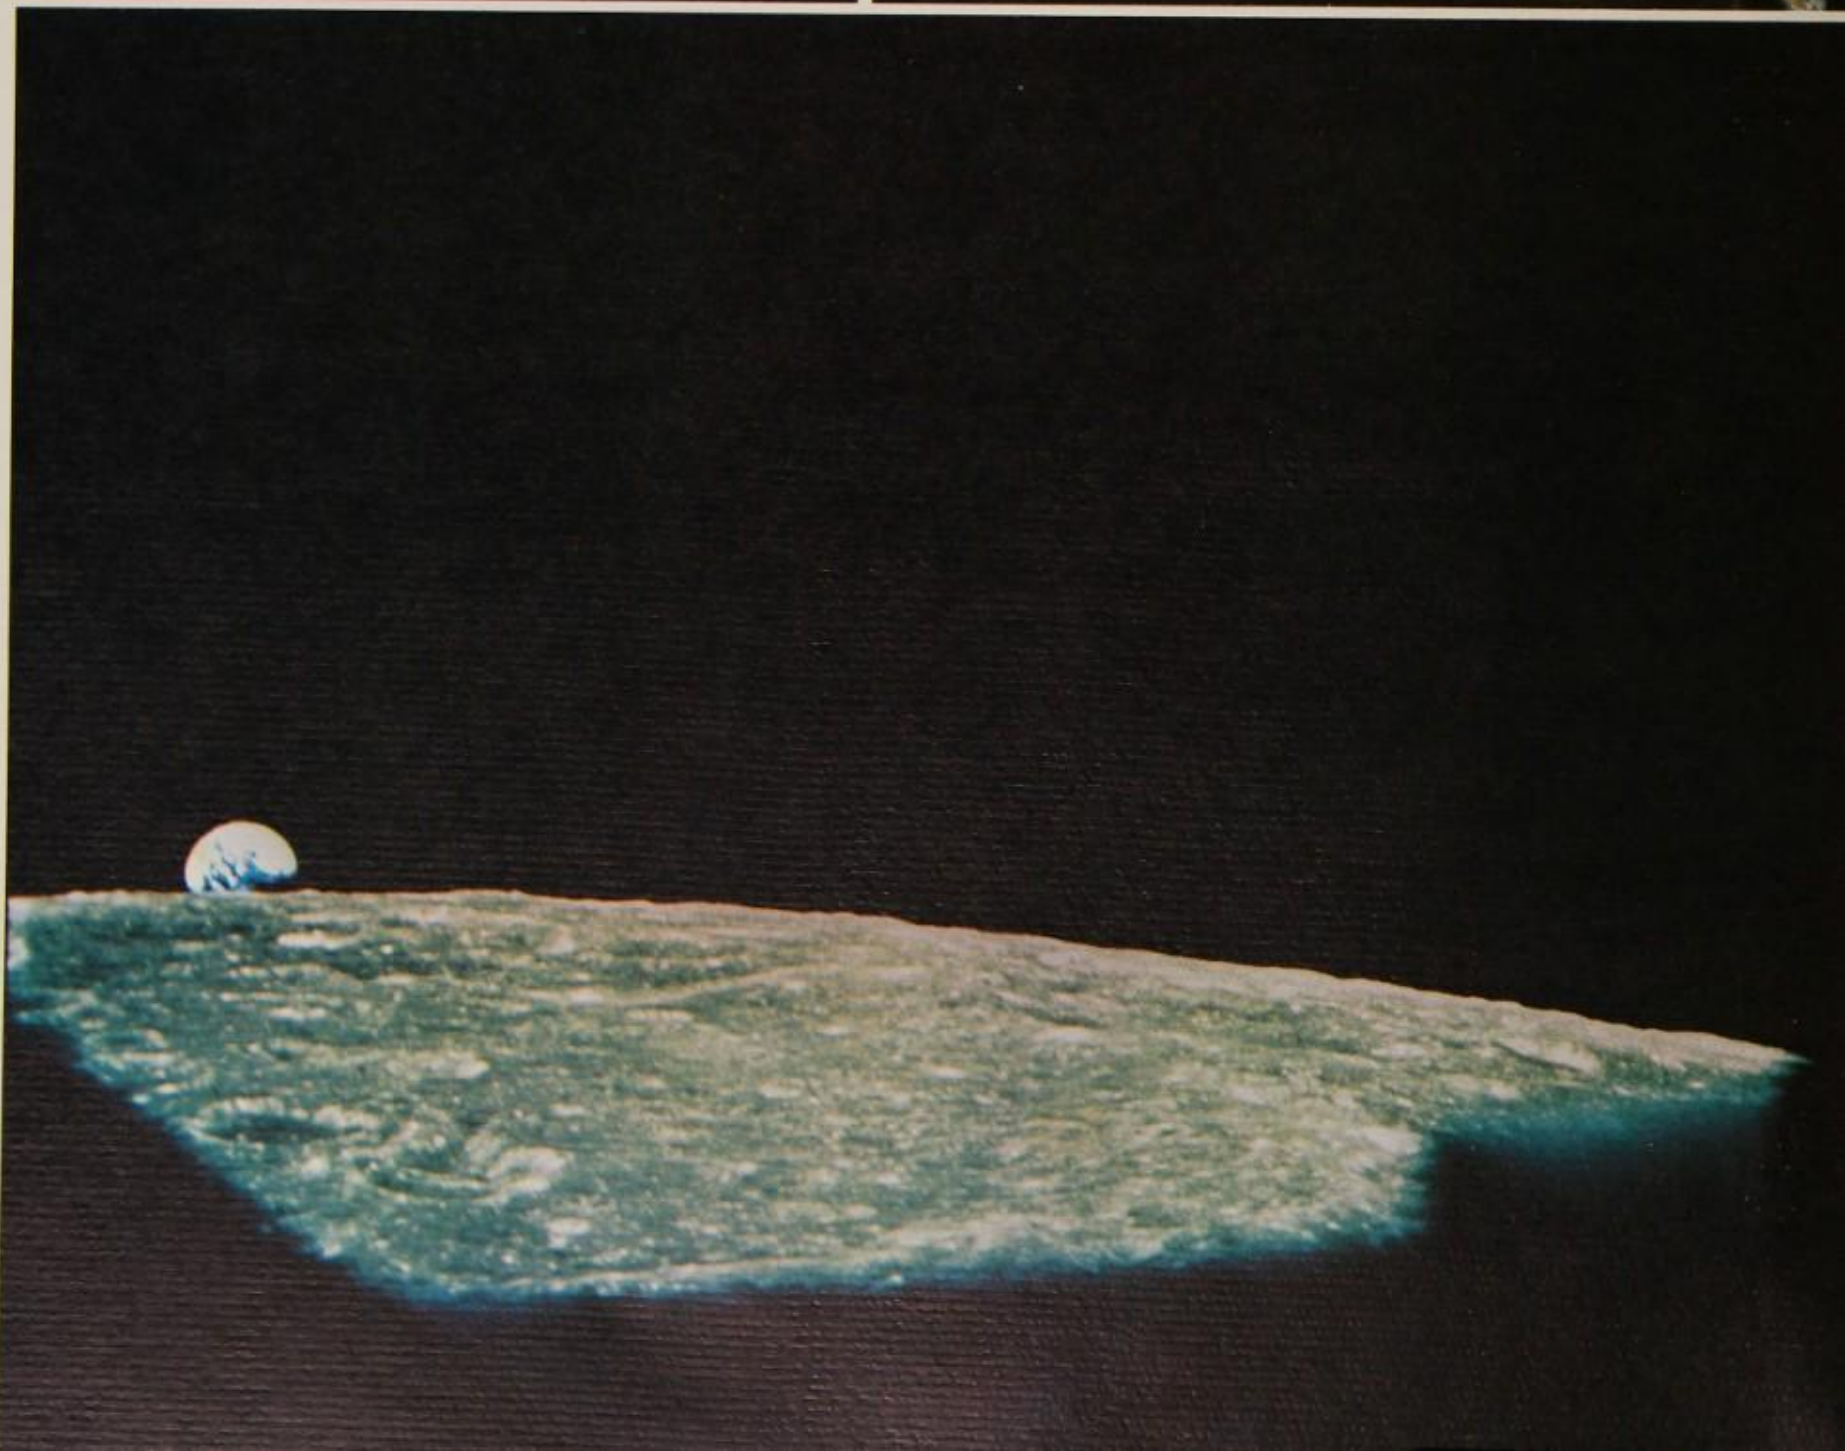

November

- ... voting in mock election
- ... carving a turkey
- ... standing in the rain
- ... pinning on mums
- ... lighting the effigies
- ... painting posters
- ... racing on tricycles
- ... supporting a charity

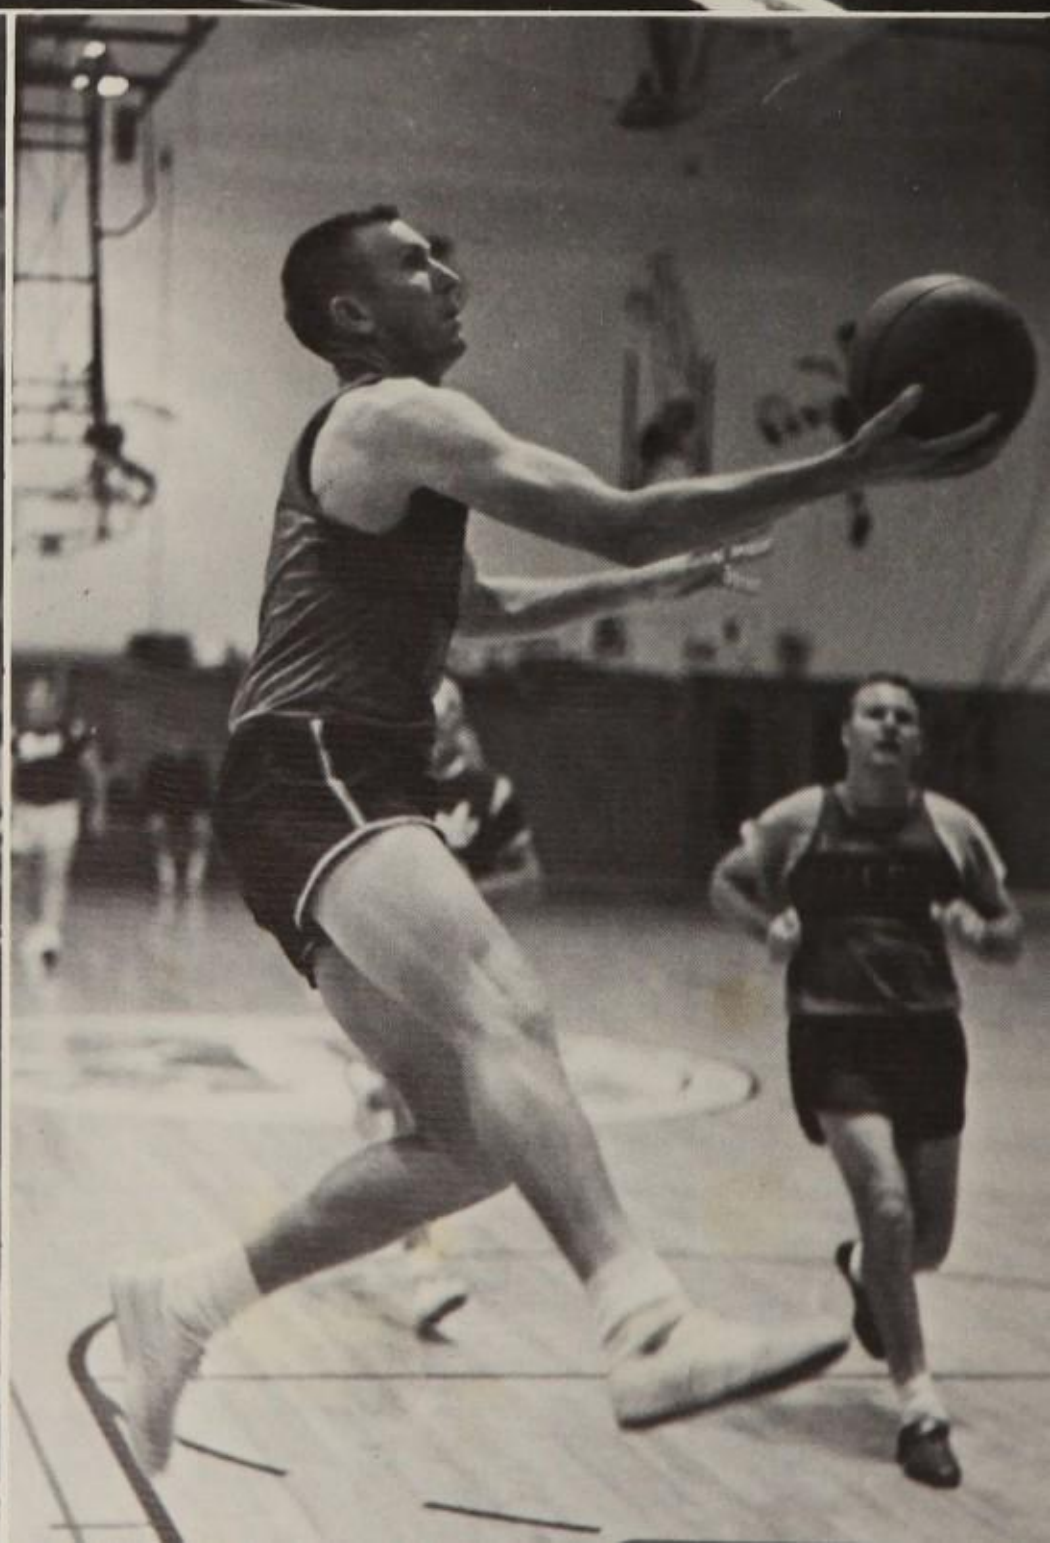

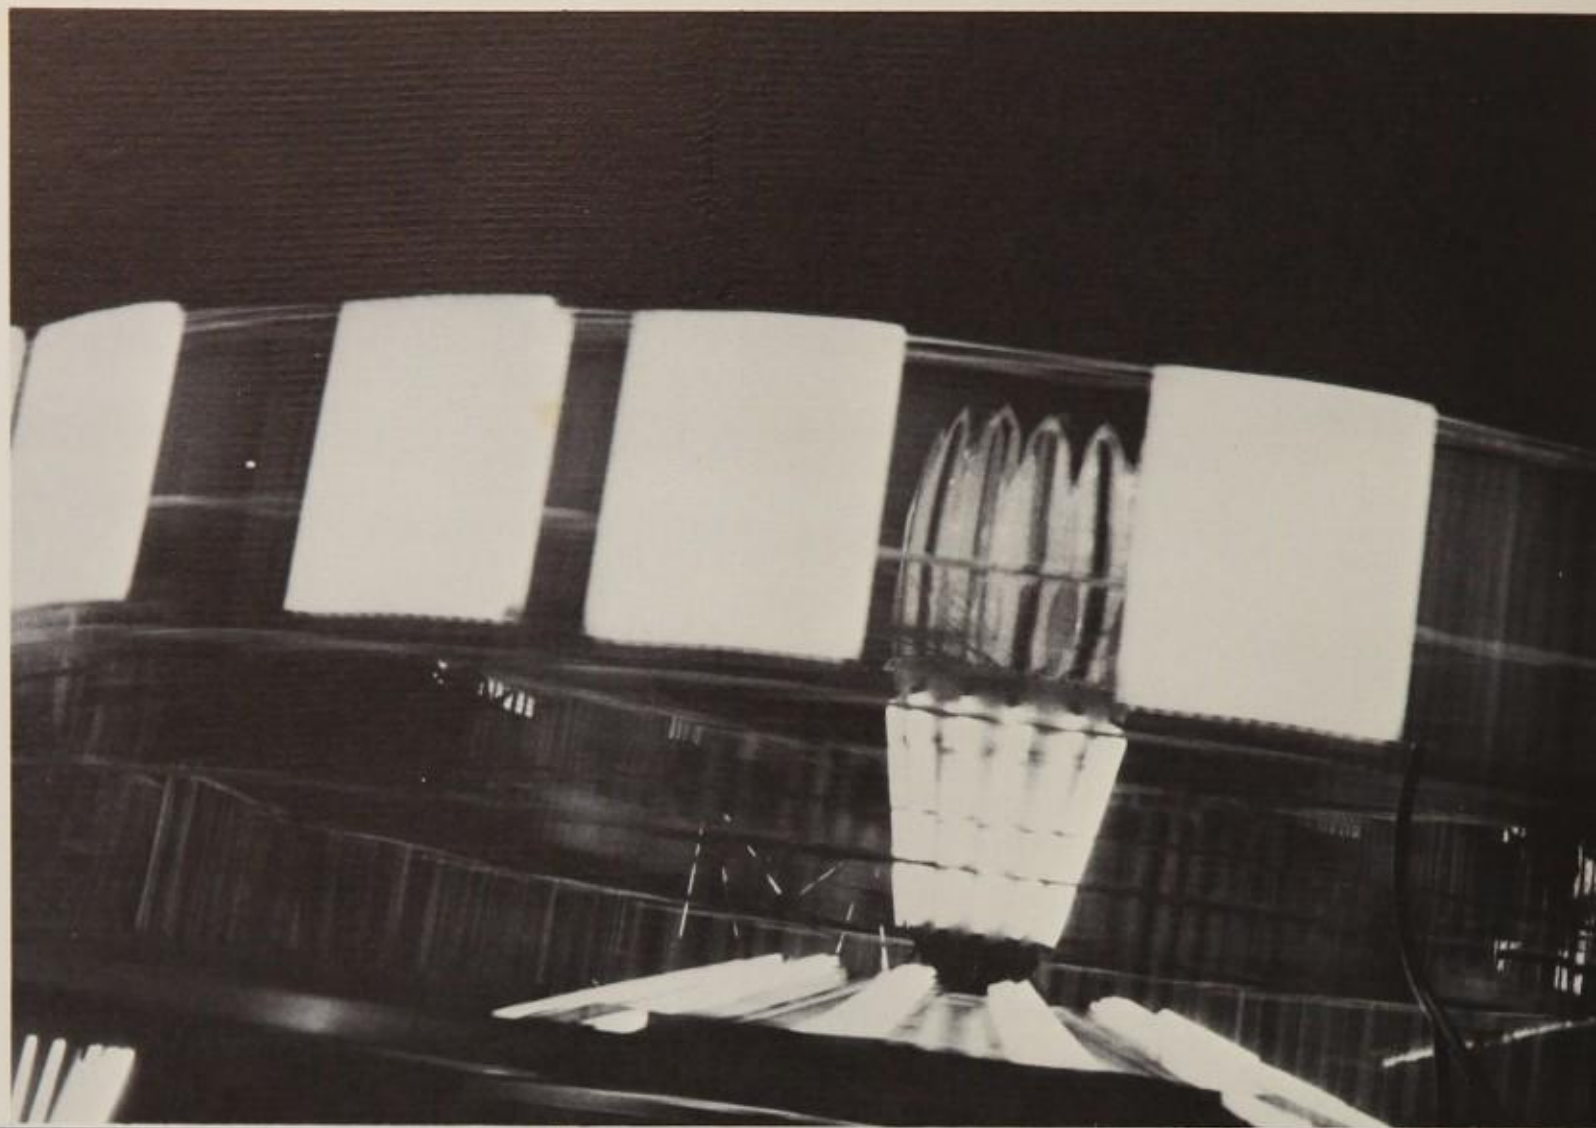

December

- ... enjoying vacation
- ... celebrating holidays
- ... going to wrestling matches
- ... observing the Apollo 8 Mission

January

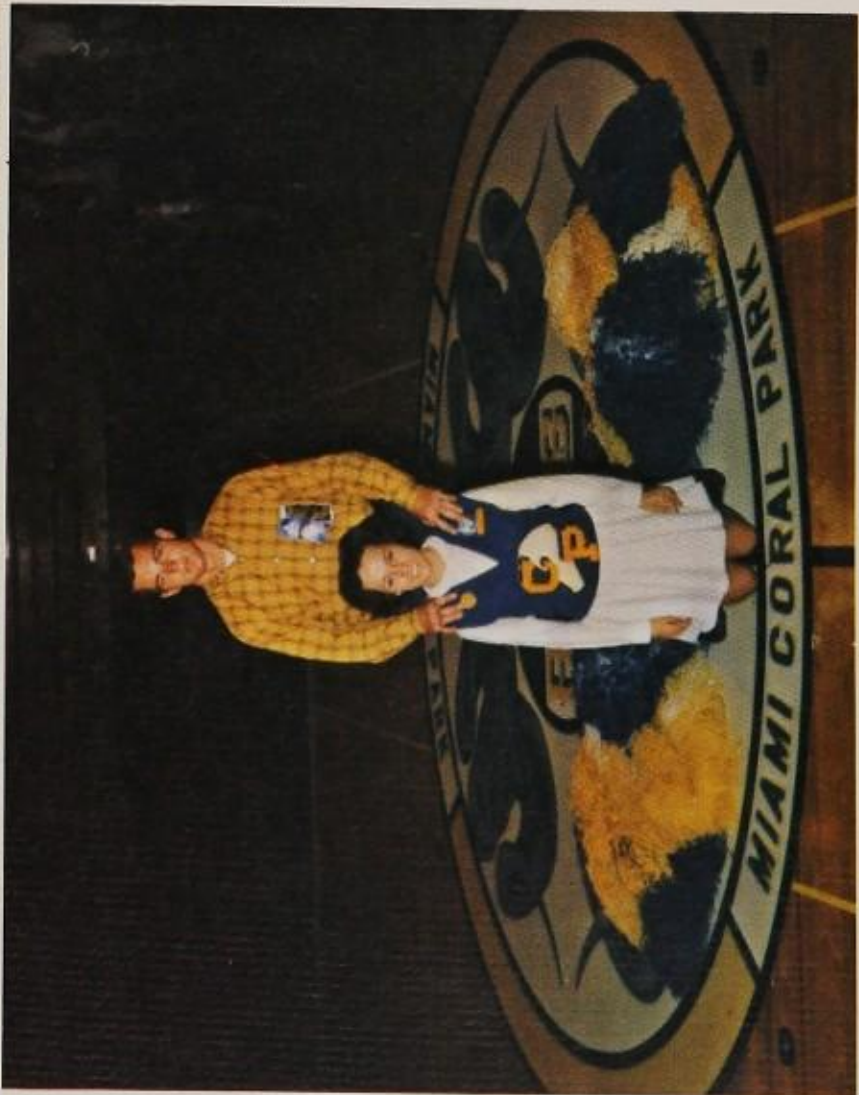

- ... sliding on slides
- ... taking semester exams
- ... supporting the soccer team
- ... going to the Youth Fair
- ... watching the faculty play basketball

February

- ... choosing spirit King and Queen
- ... wearing crazy hats
- ... fighting for a parking space
- ... giving—receiving Valentine flowers
- ... working on Science Fair projects

March

art exhibit

June

- ... studying for exams
- ... going to the beach
- ... reading the last will and testament
- ... attending the prom
- ... graduating
- ... looking for jobs

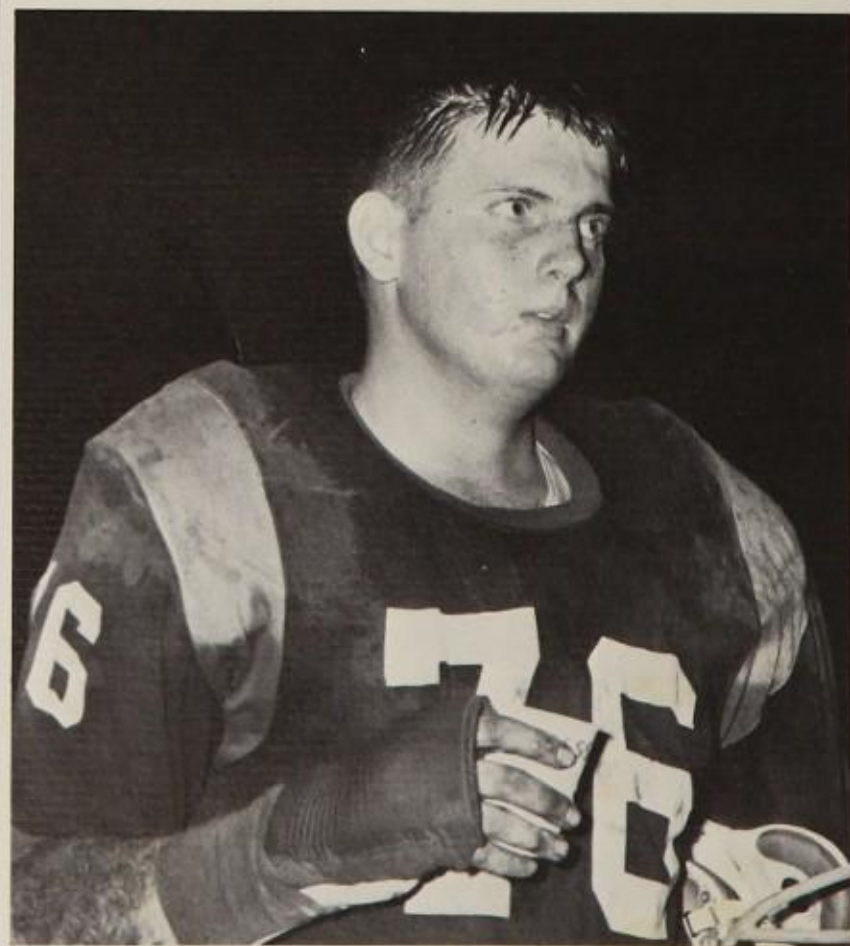

"It was the best of times,
It was the worst of times,
It was the age of wisdom,
It was the age of foolishness . . ."

Looking at this year from a distance, it was a beginning, a continuance, or an ending—depending upon your state of mind. For all it began in a similar way. There were rules and new faces to adjust to—a barrage of work. Mr. Lannom's famous attendance speech, heard by many for the sixth time, will be heard again by some. It is inevitable. How the time was spent or wasted depended upon the individual. We all created the memories, the opportunities, the atmosphere. There was a general spirit of living for the moment, often the moment we were dismissed from school. Glancing quickly over the year's events there seem to be few extremes, just a continual drone of the same events, meeting the same people at the same places, sitting in the same seat. Sameness. Look more closely. It was more than that.

Best times

pep rallies . . . dances . . . assemblies . . . beating Southwest . . . passing tests . . . going out to lunch . . . spirited presidential campaigning . . . winning . . . field trips . . . dates . . . no homework . . . conventions . . . holidays . . . sending someone a mum, a rose . . . Homecoming parade . . . doing things together . . . proms . . . formals . . . talking on the phone . . . winning the cannon . . . plays . . . giving Mr. Heilberg a pig . . . picnic . . . awards for achievement . . . carnivals . . . doing your own thing . . .

Worst times

being called down ... hassles about sideburns, clothes, and the parking lot ... late student directories ... crowded hallways ... defaced buildings ... deaths of friends ... flunking ... the flu ... falling asleep in class ... forgetting the assignment that you did for once ... getting caught ... race and college riots ... walking on crutches ... detentions ... unsatisfactory notices ... breaking-up ... losing ... Senior Slump ... being uptight ... hangovers ... bad scene ... no air-conditioning ... cold, cold, cold ...

Wisdom

learning ... studying ... researching ... reading ... thinking ... reasoning ... making decisions ... giving of your time ... listening instead of squabbling ... compromises ... competition ... using your talents ... planning ahead ... making the effort ... keep the faith baby ...

Foolishness

spontaneously parading through the halls ... sliding down banisters ... wearing crazy hats ... giving parties ... having class outside ... tricycle races ... decorating homerooms ... skipping class ... arguments about shapes of tables ... fuddy-duddy ... fire drills ... going to your counselor ... substitutes ... boys dressing as cheerleaders ... April Fool's edition of the paper ... walking in the rain ... hijackings ... dragging ... cutting up in class ... goofing off ...

For some, ending will be just that. For others it will be another beginning. Some will be relieved to leave. Some will wish they could come back. All will have memories of something to look back upon.

Societe Honoraire de Francais, the nation-wide French Honor Society's purpose was to honor the students who excelled in the French Language studies. It also had the goal of stimulating interest in the French people.

Requirements for admission were strict: a 3.75 average in French, completion of two years of the language, maintenance of a 3.0 overall scholastic average, and no grade in conduct lower than B.

Activities included guest speakers, films, slides, and parties. The sponsor was Mrs. Yolanda Kellogg.

The study of the culture and language of the German people was the main goal of the German Honor Society members. The Society awarded membership to those who displayed outstanding achievement by maintaining a 3.6 average in German, and a 3.0 overall average in scholarship and conduct.

This was the first year for German Honor as an established honor society. At meetings, German food was served and recipes were often exchanged. An exchange program for students and teachers from Germany was also sponsored by the society. This year's advisor was Mr. George Richter.

Quill and Scroll, the international high school journalism honor society, was established to recognize the outstanding members of scholastic publications. Included in the year's activities was an annual banquet for the departing senior staff members and editors of the Rampage and the Arieon.

Members received a magazine from Quill and Scroll and were encouraged to participate in writing competitions. The organization seeks to interest promising high school journalists in pursuing the field beyond secondary school. Quill and Scroll sponsor was Mr. Gerald Stone.

Excellence in scholarship, service, leadership, and character were the prerequisites of a National Honor Society member. Once accepted into this organization, the members had to maintain their academic average of 3.4.

Activities of this year included attendance at the District Meetings. National Honor Society's main project was supporting a family with two children, whose house burnt down; and on weekends, members took the children to the zoo and other recreational places.

The sponsors were Mrs. Rosemarie Ferry and Miss Jacqueline Mitchell.

Studying Spanish language and culture with achievement.

To stimulate and create an interest in Spanish culture and to recognize high achievement in Spanish studies were the main purposes of the Spanish Honor Society at Coral Park.

This year, the club sponsored a guest speaker from the University of Miami who spoke about various aspects of Spanish music. There was also a representative from Project Hope to discuss Spanish culture with interested students.

Members acted as student tutors for those desiring extra help.

Sponsor of Spanish Honor Society was Mrs. Joan Cormier.

Girls sports was largely promoted this year by GAA, the Girls' Athletic Association. To obtain membership a girl must have participated in after-school intramurals. As a service project, GAA supplied scorers for sports days while other members acted as officials. They also sponsored the boys' basketball team and painted signs at numerous workshops.

This year they decorated a car for the Homecoming Parade. As their annual gift, GAA donated a trophy case for the locker room.

JETS, the Junior Engineering Technical Society, was organized to recognize the science and engineering oriented students. Under the JETS program, technicians and engineers from the community were invited to Florida Power and Light's Turkey Point plant. While there, they toured the atomic reactor complex and were shown the facilities which now provide Dade County with electrical power. JETS sponsor was Mr. Donald Kirkpatrick.

Open the door of knowledge with a book.

Volunteer librarians helped to facilitate efficient book traffic in the school library. The only prerequisite for participation was a willingness to work. Without their efforts to maintain order, the library would not have functioned smoothly.

Every school day, students correctly shelved books and checked them in. They also distributed magazines and made sure they were arranged chronologically in the stacks. These students also directed people in the selection of proper reading and research materials.

Mrs. Lois Cole acted as supervisor of the group.

Just formed this year, the Mental Health Club has attempted to fulfill its goal: to help the community, and to gain a better understanding of human problems.

One of the club's major projects was a Christmas party at the George Washington Elementary School. They also took children to Crandon Park to visit the zoo and to have a picnic. The club listened to guest speakers such as Dr. Eve McNanomy who spoke on college problems and Dr. Alexander Van West, chief psychologist of Youth Hall. This year's sponsor was Mrs. Sylvia Kuvin.

One of the purposes of the Paramedical Club was to give students interested in a medical career exposure to the different phases of medicine.

The club sponsored various activities this year: They published a pamphlet on drugs to acquaint the students with the effects drugs have on the body, gave Thanksgiving baskets to needy families, prepared first aid kits for the science classes and bought supplies for the clinic.

The sponsor was Mrs. Carol Hamill.

Pep Club members helped to promote school spirit. They were avid participants at pep rallies and sports events, cheering our teams to victories. Their main function during the year was to sponsor various student activities.

Pep Club sponsored spirit month, which included dress-up day, sneaker day, etc. Members took charge of the spring and winter pep rallies and the club presented the spirit award. Pep Club also took part in the Homecoming parade.

Mr. David Smith was sponsor of Pep Club.

Rampages, a girl's interest club, concentrated its service on athletic events. Dedicated to aiding the school with their projects, the girls often performed useful services. One of their projects was selling programs at the football games. They assisted coaches at gymnastics, wrestling, and basketball meets, where they sold and collected admission tickets to the events, and worked behind concession booths.

The club was sponsored by the Ram Booster Club.

Social Studies Club was very active this year. During the fall the club held a mock convention where many students actively participated. They took a survey of the student body at Coral Park concerning drug usage.

Guest speakers were often on hand and the club took several field trips during the year. At the end of the year they sponsored the social studies awards night where those who had displayed outstanding ability in the field were recognized.

Though all members were not taking German, members of the German Interest Club benefited by studying the culture of Germany.

In the second semester, members supported the soccer team by holding workshops and making signs.

Representatives of the German Interest Club were sent to the Florida Association of Students of German Convention in St. Petersburg where students could win scholarships by competing in speaking ability, historical knowledge, or presenting a map or research paper on some aspect of Germany.

Mr. George Richter was the sponsor.

Students pursuing an interest in the French, Latin, or Spanish language combined to form the United Language Club. The club is made up of various committees representing a specific language. At each meeting, a certain committee is responsible for presenting a skit to show the different cultures of the language it represents. Activities for the year included eating at international restaurants, decorating the school during the Christmas season, and going ice skating.

The sponsor was Mrs. Francisca Chase.

The king

full house.

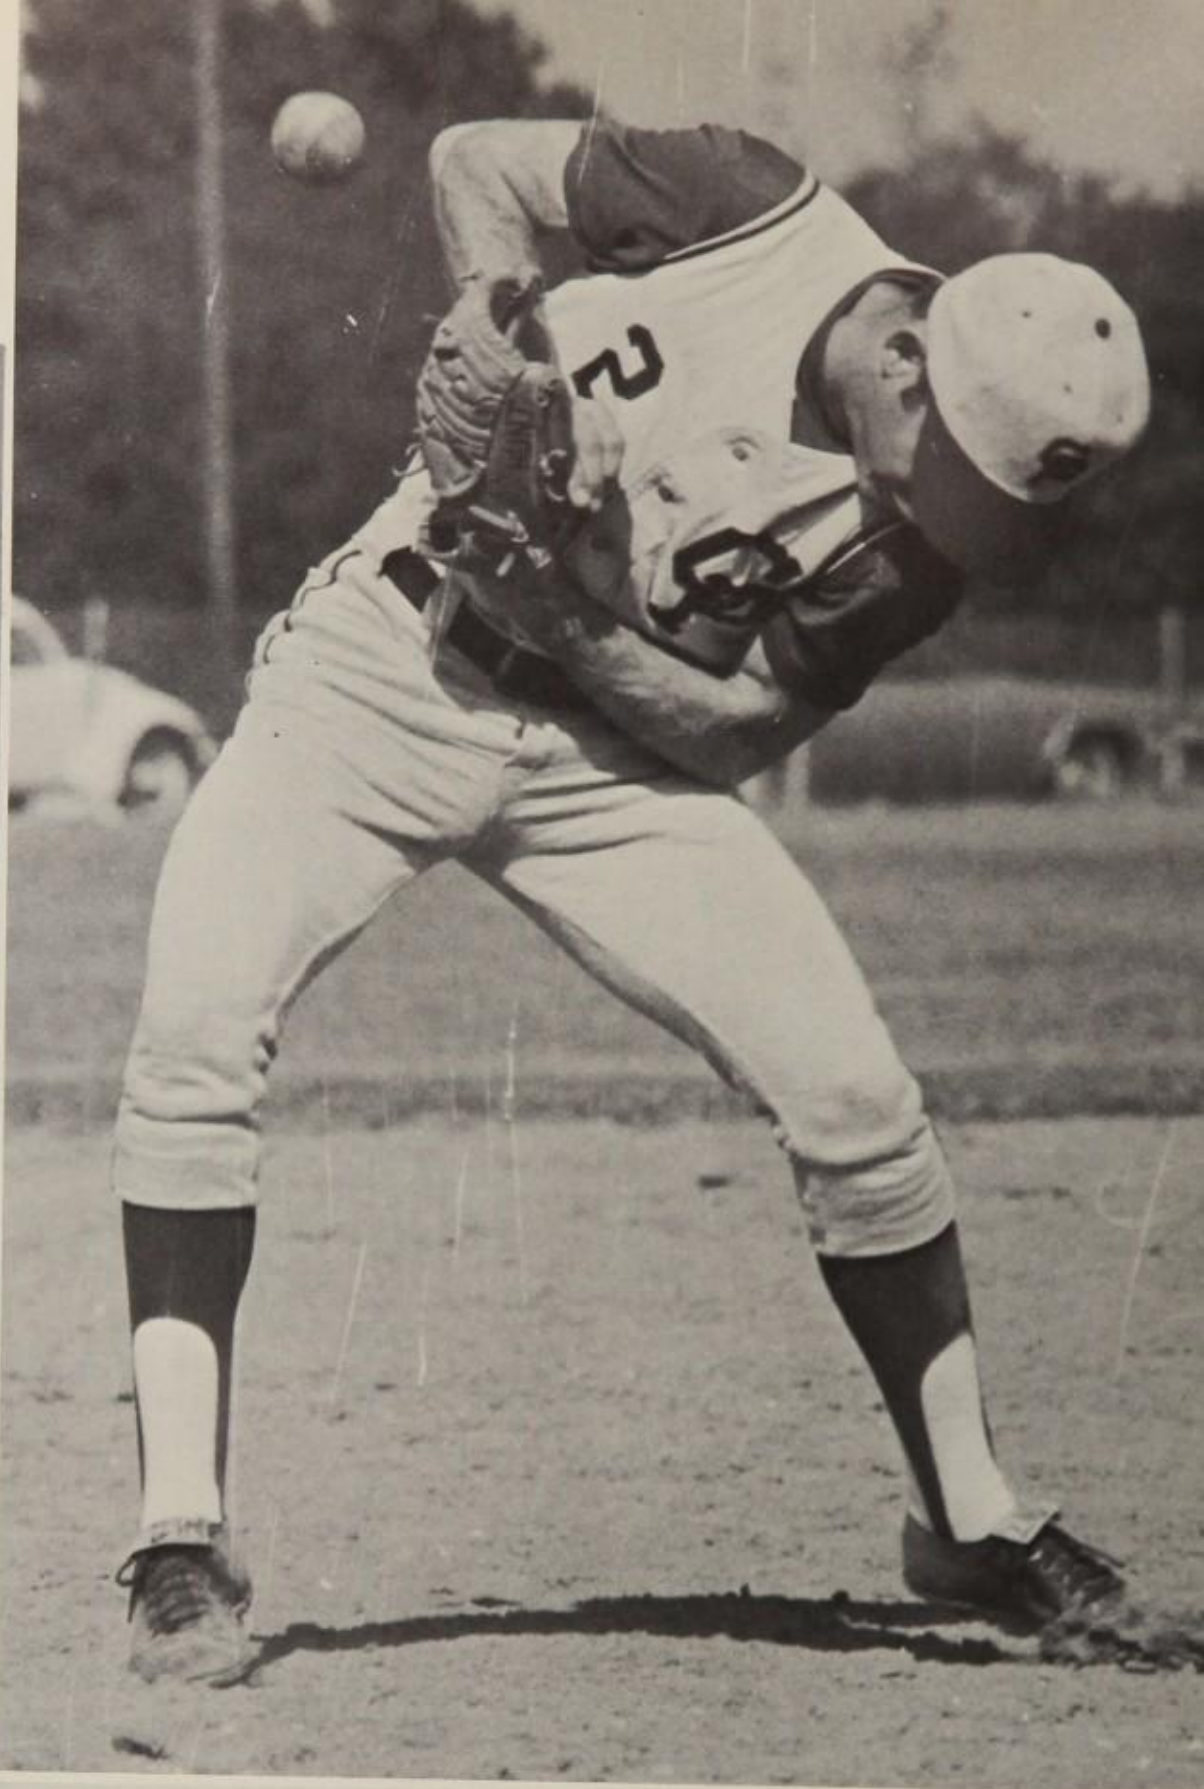

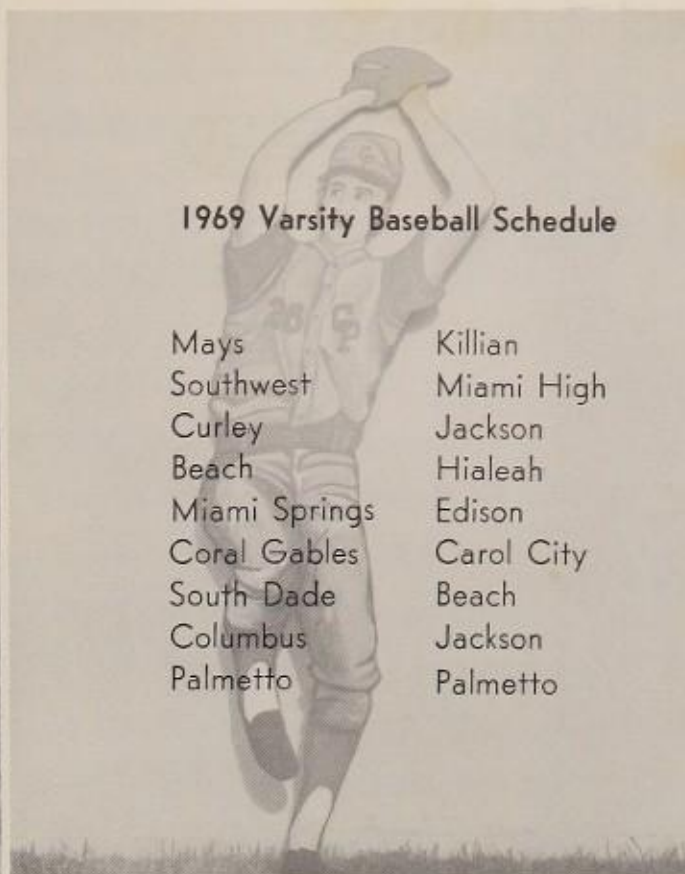

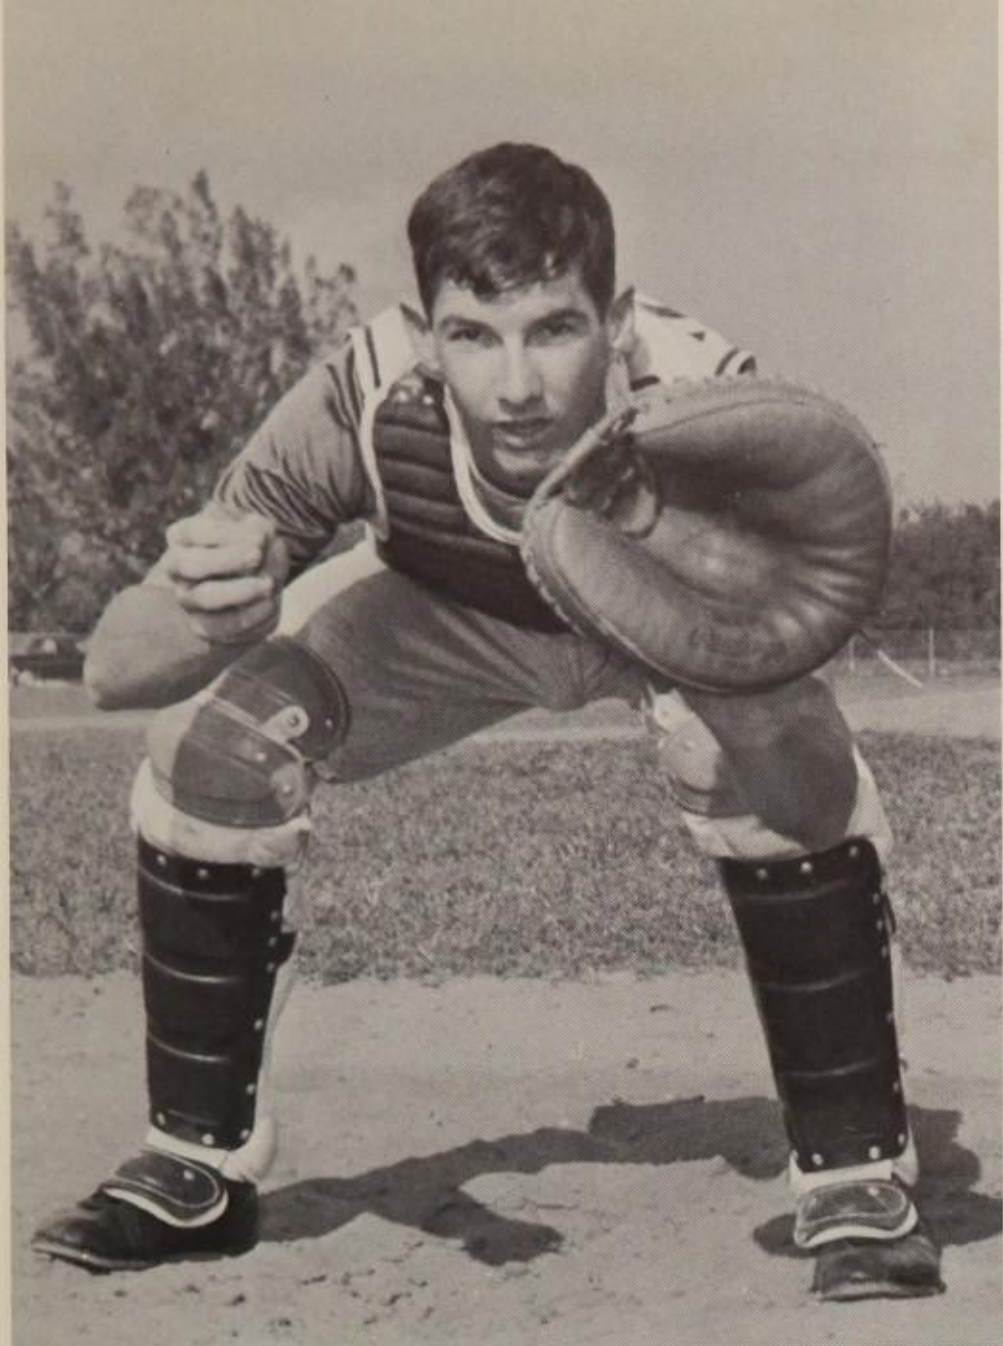

The 1969 version of the Go-Go Ram Baseball team proved to be one of the most successful in the team's short 5 year history. The Rams, headed by seniors Tom Rosa, Marc Einhorn, Moe Cease, and Tim Sherrill provided game experience of three years. The infield included shortstop Tom Rosa, Moe Cease at first, second baseman Benny Castillo, Mike Hunt at third and Tim Sherrill behind the plate. The infield was one of the county's best.

The pitching staff, headed by juniors Brian Lovett and John Bennett kept opposition scores down. Outstanding players included Neil Einhorn, Hal Amat and Carlos Pascual. Mike Brennan was the pitching coach. Coach Red Berry was also aided by Phil Zelman.

Ram cagers at Coral Park had a bad bounce of the basketball this year, but the Rams never gave up. Little Paul Bronis was a continuous high scorer, with other high scorers including Bruce Browman and Bruce Aronson. Despite a lack of height, the Rams' game was fast moving.

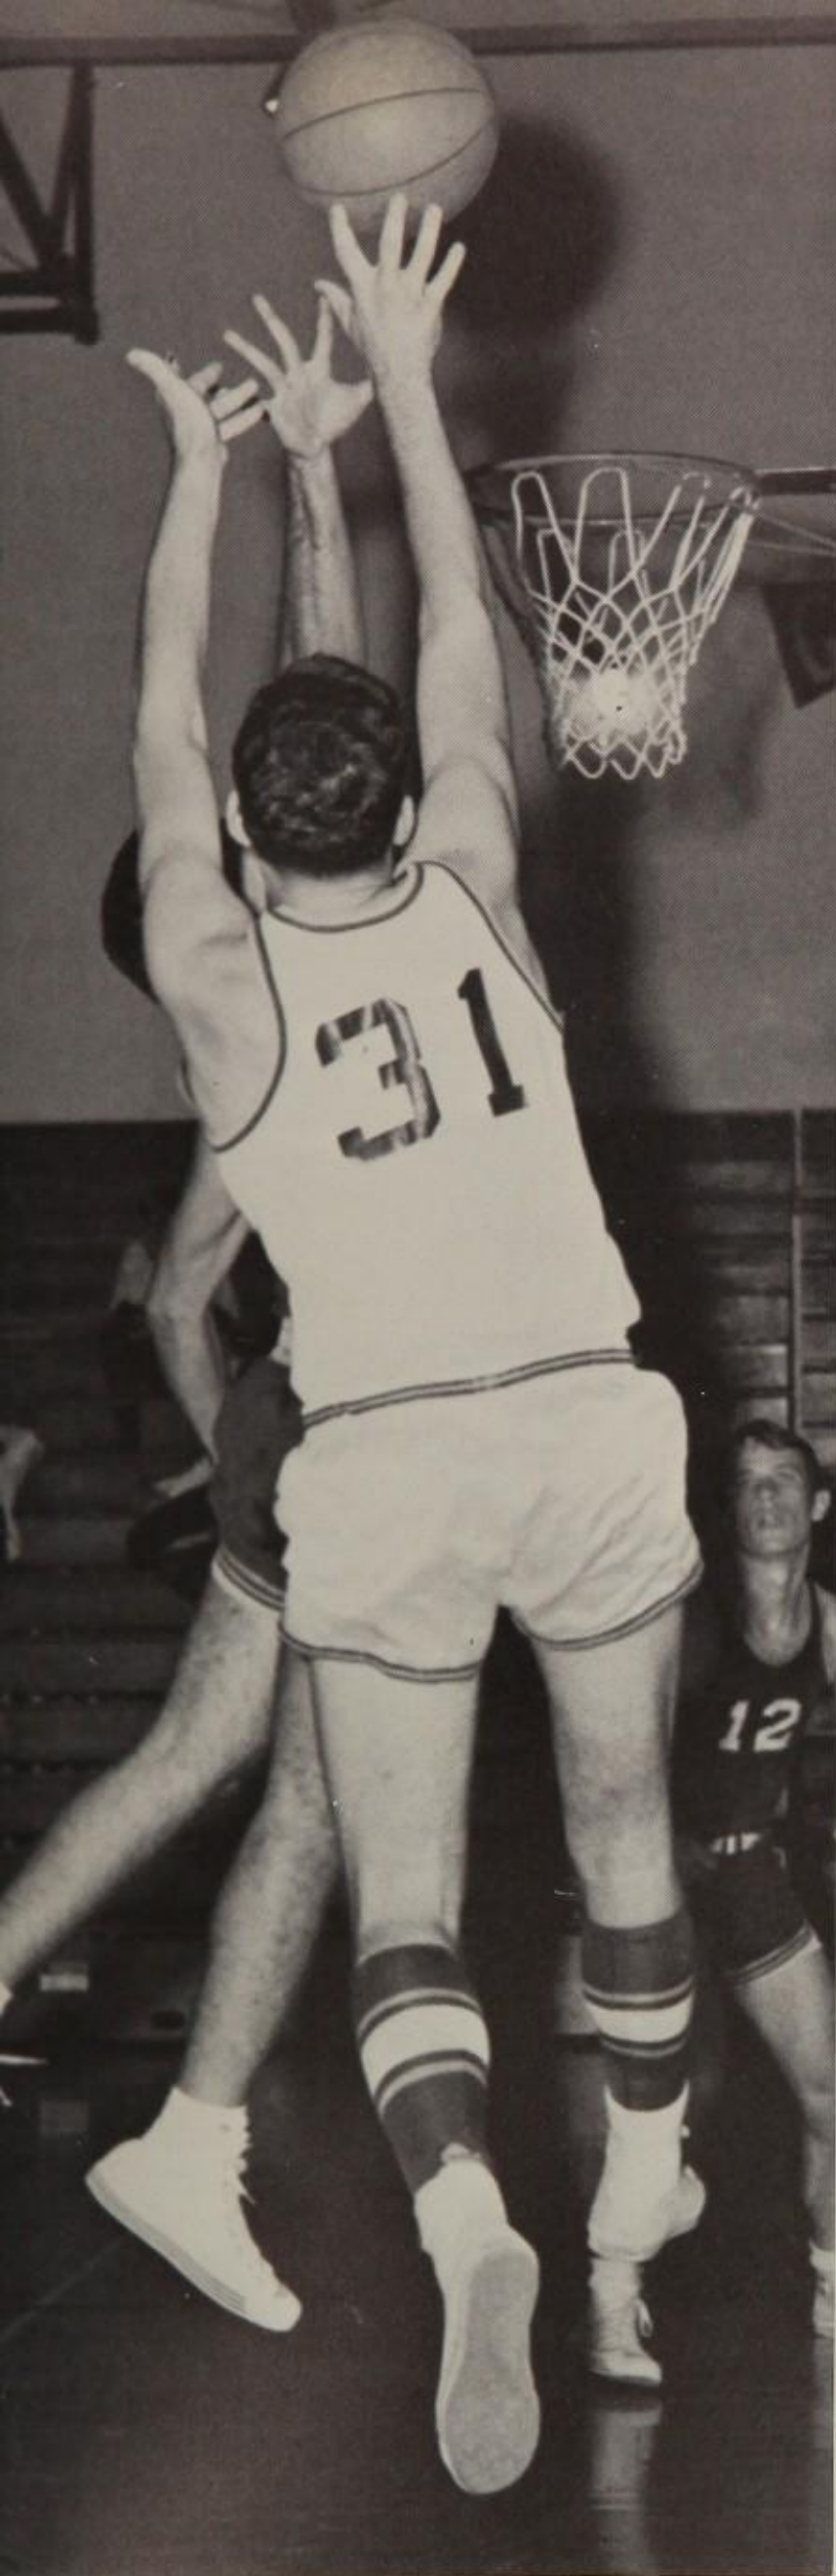

Other players such as Bob Beatty and Bernie Hall also helped the team. The team was over-all small, but fast. With help from the hopeful junior varsity squad, Coach Gene Stage can look forward to next season.

There are few sports that require as much practice to develop skill as Bowling. Coral Park had many returning bowlers this year. Left handed Paula Sperber, made the All-City team for 3 straight years and continued to lead the county as well as the Rams.

Returning members of the boy's team also gave them depth. Mike Musumeci was a leading scorer. Other boys such as Bruce Himschoot and Scott Demsky helped the sophomore bowlers. The team also followed tradition by entering the county wide post season tournament. Mr. Paul Rice was the Ram bowling coach again this year.

Cross Country is the team of the lonely runners. Since Coral Park came into existence the Cross Country Team has made its presence felt, with 1968 no exception. Coral Park runners won the LaSalle Invitational to begin the year, and ended it with a second place in the Greater Miami Athletic Conference meet.

Outstanding performances by both juniors and seniors helped the Rams obtain the 4-0 dual meet record. Seniors Bob Lyons and Paul Yngve aided younger members of the team, while juniors such as Sergio Fernandez and Russ Killinger gained experience for next year. Fred Cooley coached this year's championship team.

Football season, filled with
punts and passes,
blocks and tackles,
wins and losses,
boos and cheers.

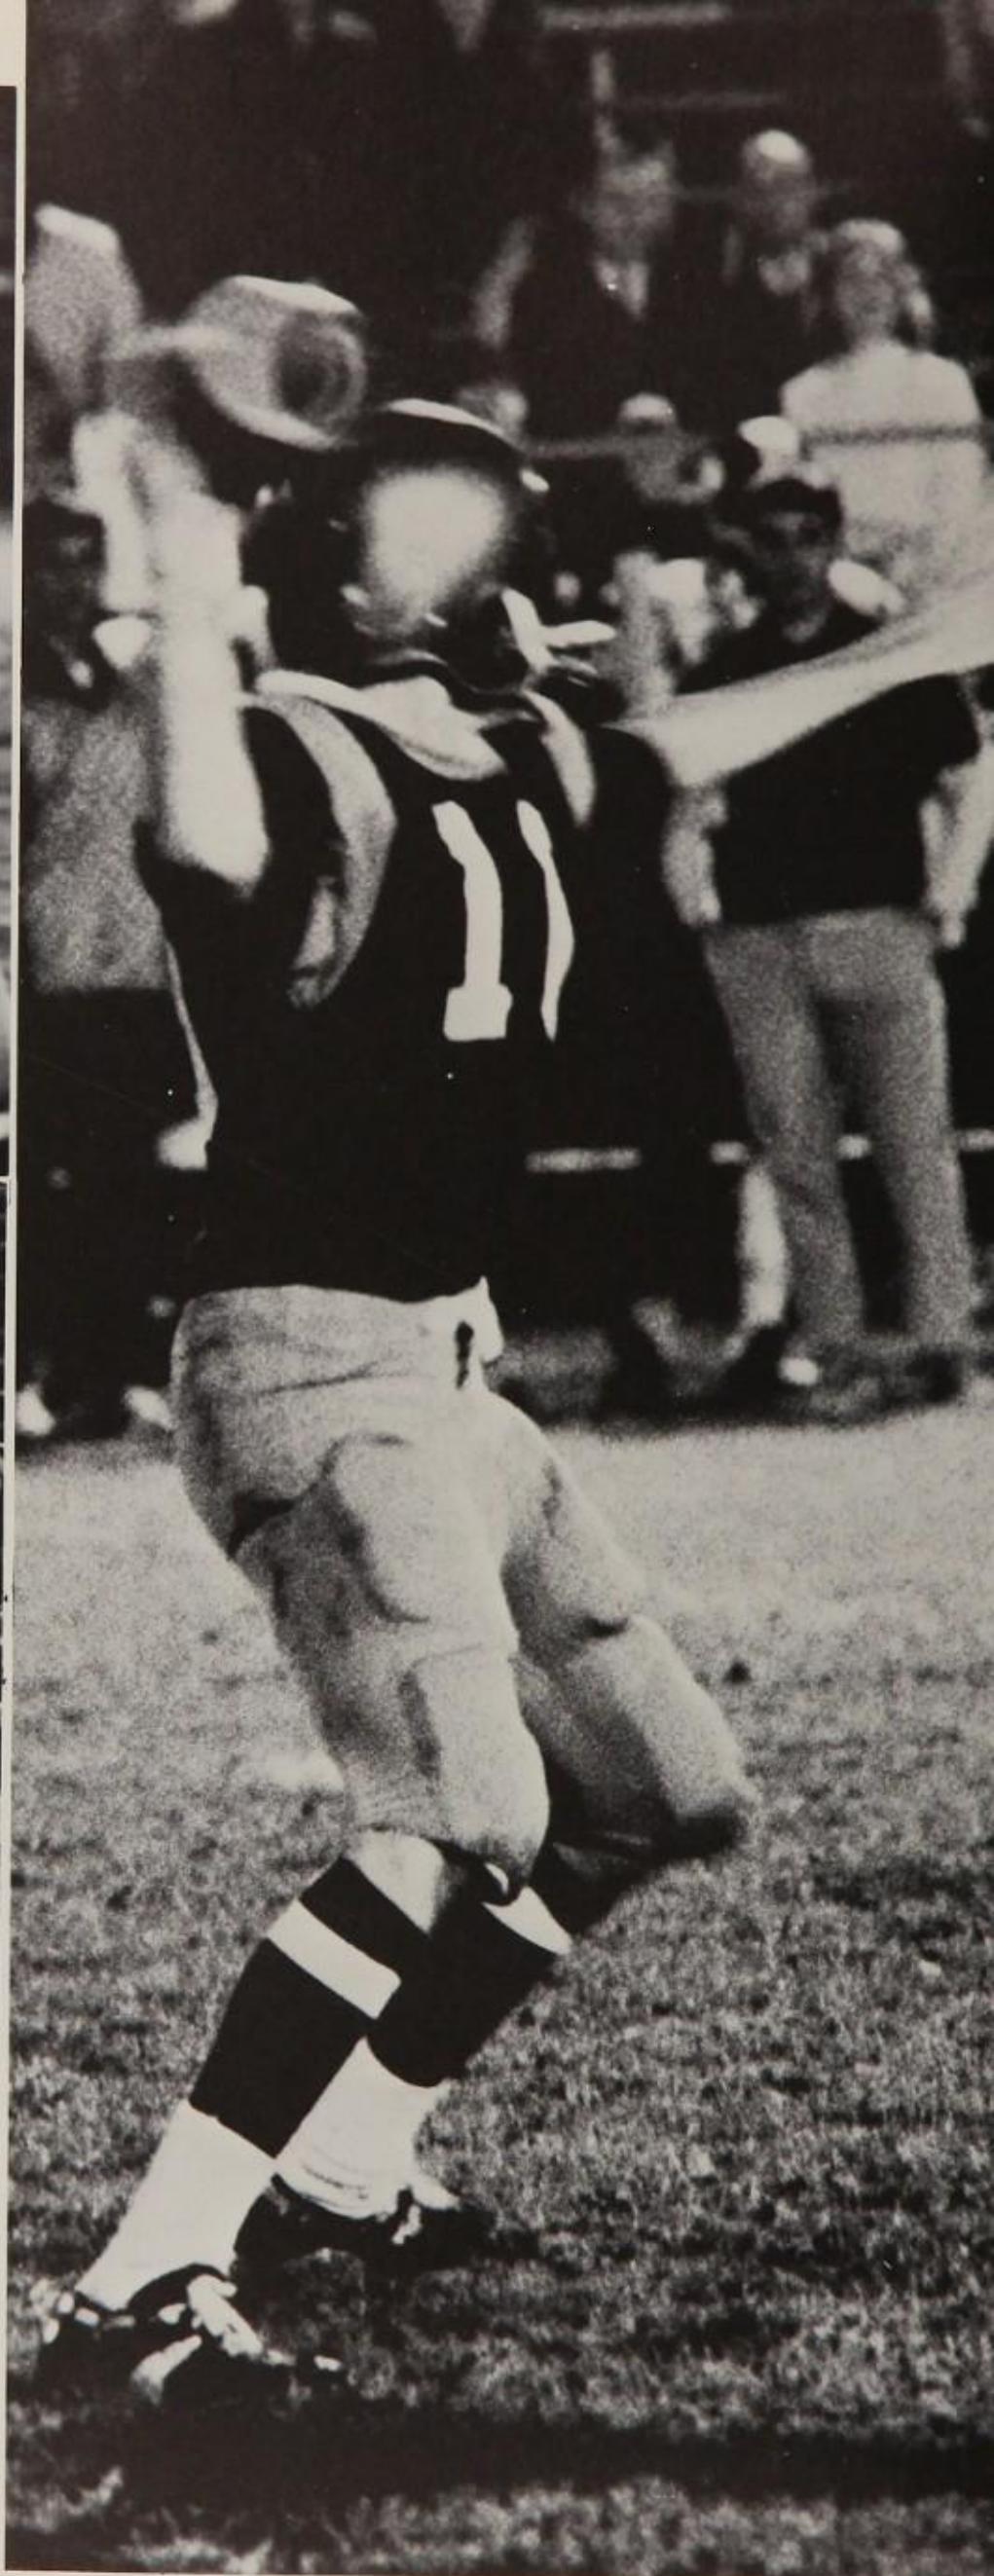

Football, 1968. Coach Frank Downing promised it to be "the year we right the Ram." Coral Park had its best season since 1965, compiling a 6-4 record. The high point of the 1968 season was a first victory over arch rival Southwest by a 27-6 score.

There were many outstanding players on this year's team. Barry Smith made the All-City team for the second straight year, with Joel Edlowski and Bill Hayes joining on all city teams with him. Tom Carlson and Rusty Waters plus 28 other seniors were the force that helped get the Rams back on a winning road. 1968 had many unforgettable moments, and as Downing promised, it was THE YEAR WE RIGHT THE RAM.

Duffers
drive fore-ward
to a better season.

Golfers from Miami Coral Park had the best season in three years, including one victory over arch-rival Southwest. The Coral Park duffers, lead by Blake Atkinson and Fred Diaz, defeated the Eagles by a 4-1 score to continue varsity sport's blitz of the Ram Eagle match-ups.

Other members of the team, Dan Daley, John Watson, Mike Pascalis and Ed List also aided the squad. This year's golf team was coached by Mr. Richard Adams.

Gymnastics is a sport of grace and skill. For no other sport requires such skill, and is as graceful as gymnastics. The Coral Park gymnasts proved their skill again this year with the state championship after placing first in the G.M.A.C. finals. It was the second straight year for Coach Don Holder's team to win the title.

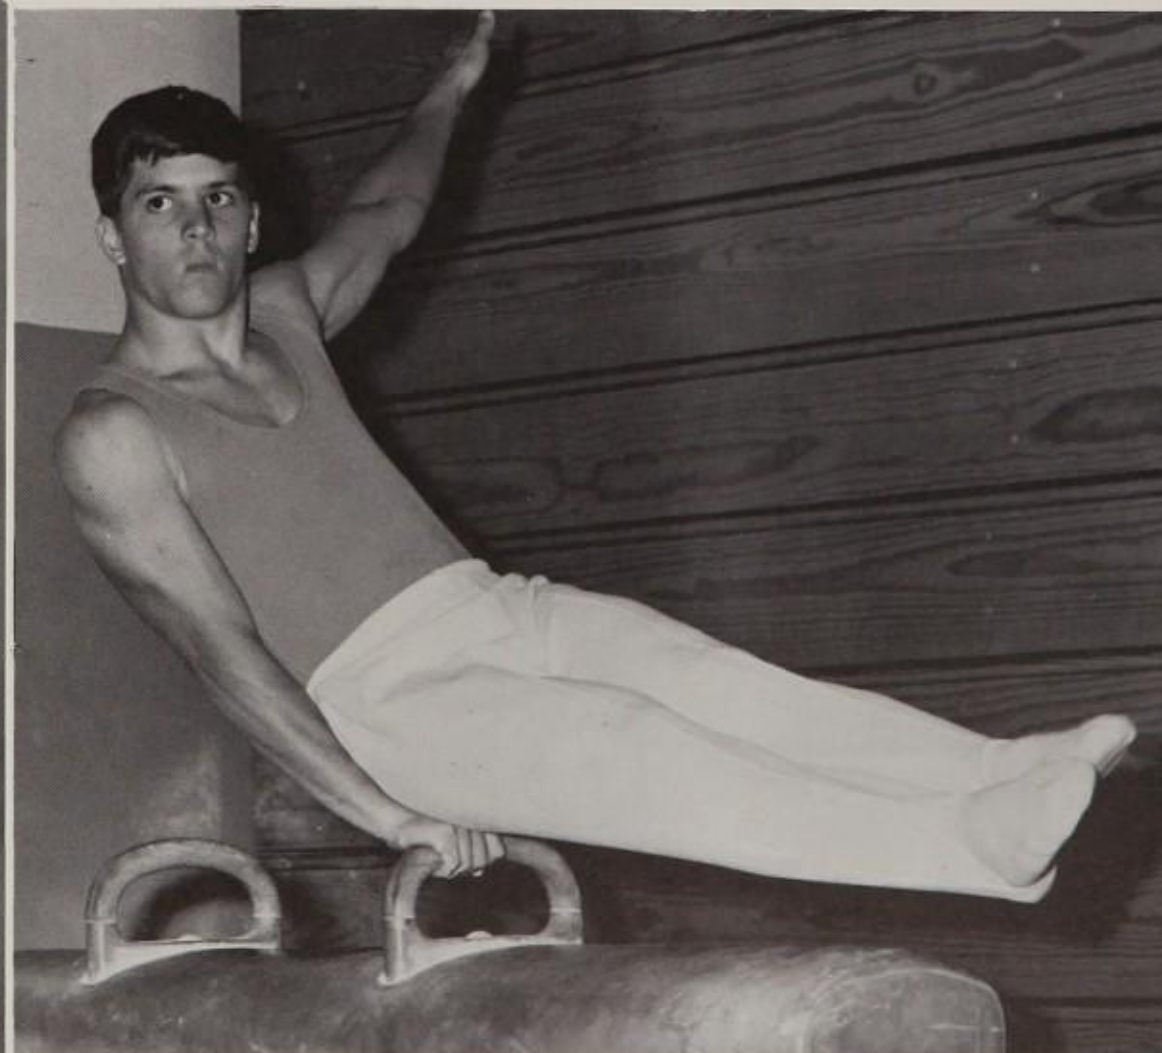

Outstanding for the boys' team was All-City gymnast Jerry Westberg. Rick Katz and Bob Schneider were also outstanding seniors. The girls' team, headed by Sue Kurtz and Jennene Phillips, was the top girl gymnastics team, and ended the year successfully. The team of grace, as well as skill, was another team of championship ability for which the Rams can be proud.

Swimmers at Coral Park continued to lead in Dade County competition this year with another winning season. The teams were led in the boys division by Scott Boddy and Jose Trueba. The girls' division was led by All-Americans Debi Green and Jo Denger.

The boys' team competed in the North Miami Invitational. Wins included a first, second, and third place in diving by Bill Dodd, Bill Wheeler, and Jerry Westberg. Outstanding underclassmen this year were juniors Jose Trueba, Joel Parrott, and sophomore Bill Goding. Miss Brenda Campbell and Mr. Dan Cavanaugh were the swimming coaches this season.

of the Rams.

Tennis, once called the "sport of the rich", is now the sport for everyone—and South Florida is a perfect place for tennis enthusiasts. Coral Park's two teams, aided by seniors Bekki Crews and Larry Freedman, helped the Ram tennis team smash opponents.

With many juniors and sophomores returning next year, the Rams will continue to be a strong factor in Dade County tennis circles. Coach Richard Grant supervised the team for the third straight year.

Track is a sport that is more than running, jumping, and throwing. Track is endurance, strength, and pride. Early in the season, competing with teams from all over Florida at the Orlando Invitational Track meet, the Rams placed fourth.

Barry Smith proved his ability as a team leader in the low hurdles. David Host used his speed and jumping ability to set a state record in the long jump that measured 21' - 1 3/4". Overall, the track team was one that will not only be remembered for records, and a winning season, but for one that had endurance, strength, and most of all—pride. Fred Cooley was track coach this year.

Swimming team
preseason tradition with dominance
in water polo.

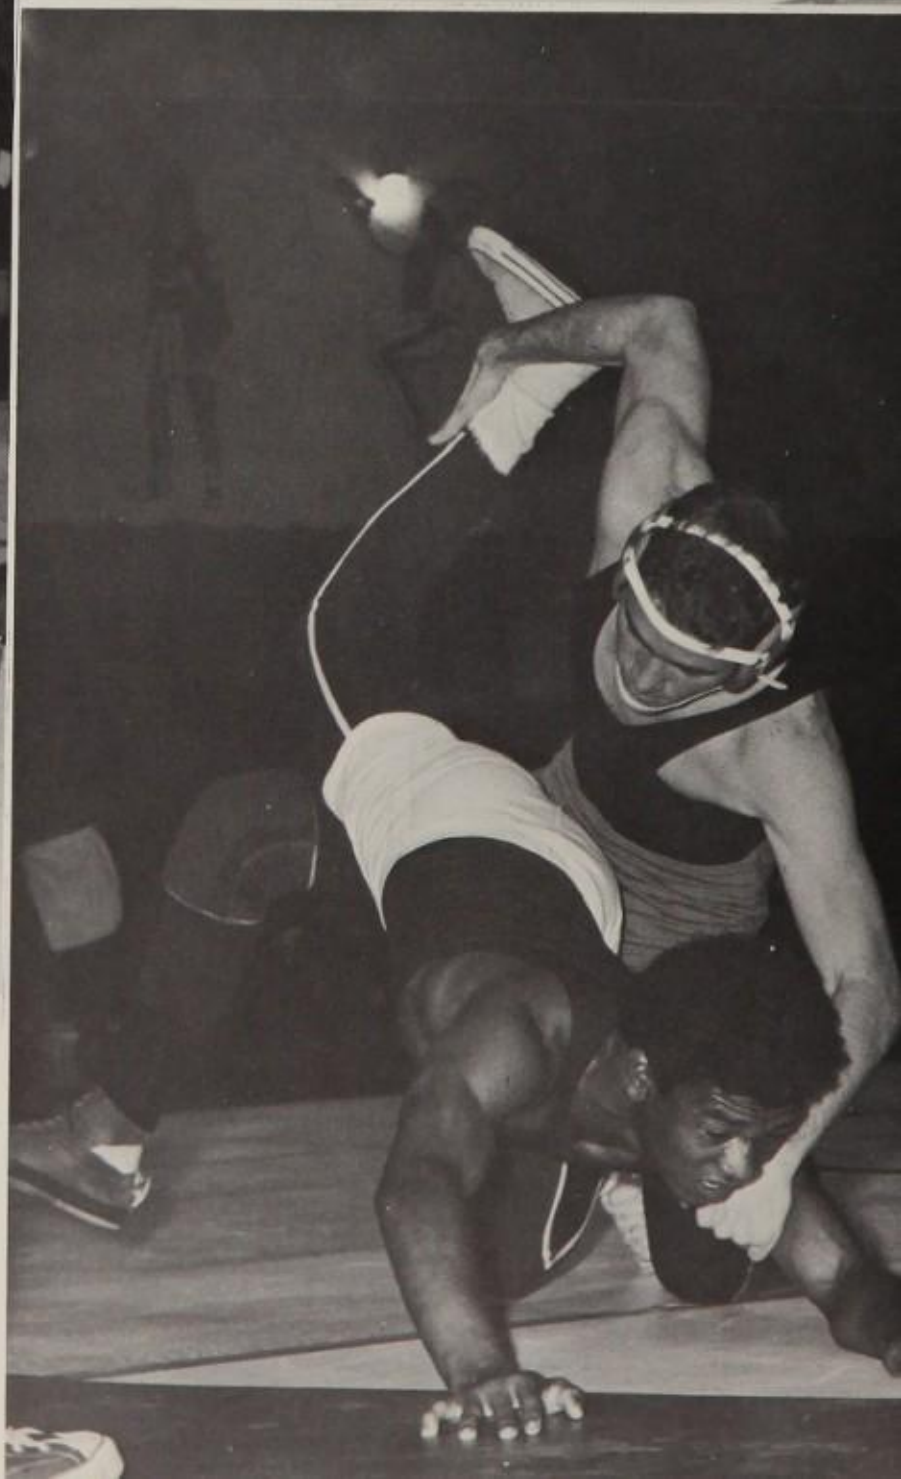

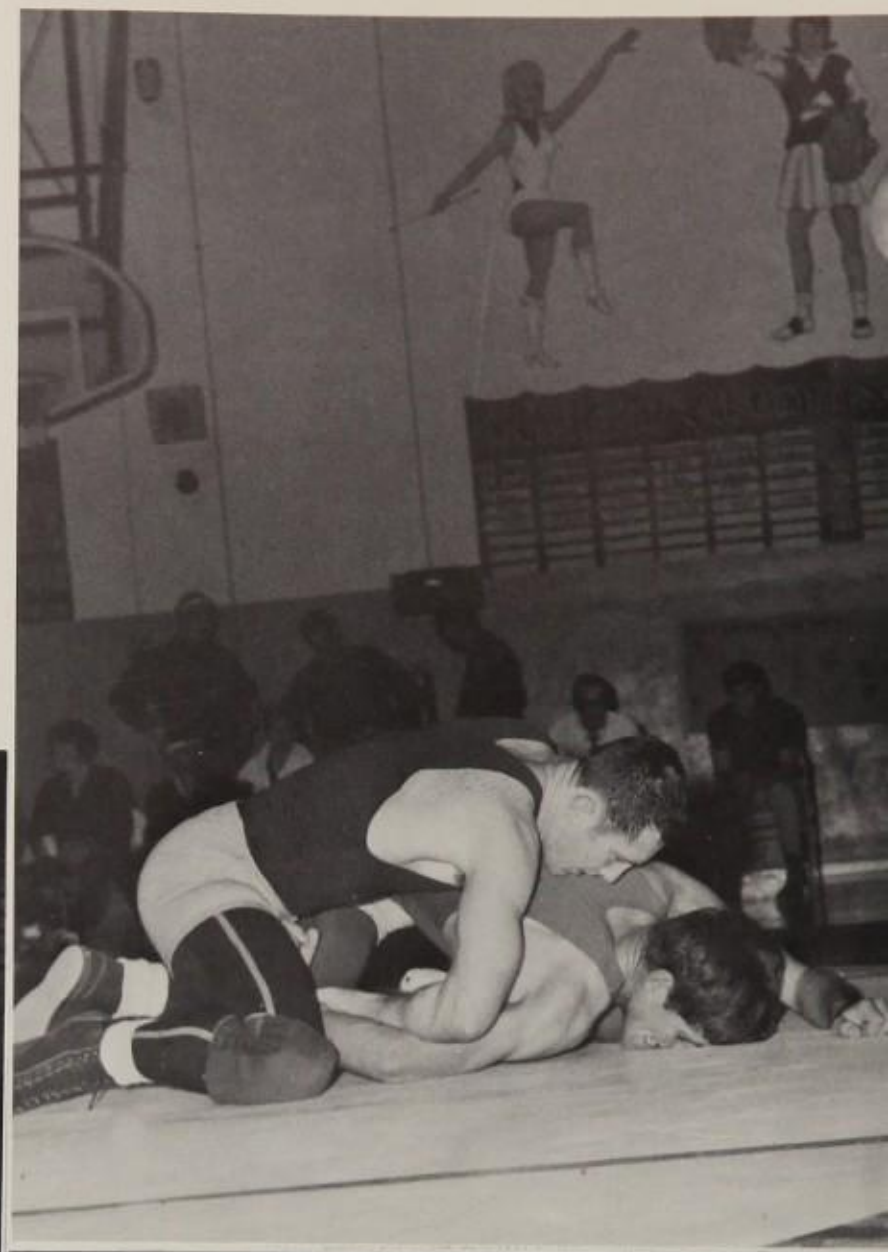

One of the main traditions of Coral Park swimming has been to dominate all opponents, and the boys and girls of the Water Polo team continued that tradition this year. The boys finished with a 7-1 mark, while the girls had a 5-1 record. Both teams entered the state play-offs.

Under the guidance of Coach Dan Cavanaugh, the boys team placed 4th, while the girls took 3rd in their division. Jose Trueba, Les Patterson, Chris Schofield and Scott Boddy were outstanding for the boys, while Debi Green, Ginny Freeman and Jo Denger were stars on the girl's team.

The Wrestling Rams of Coral Park continued in the championship tradition this year, with high rankings in the G.M.A.C. and state finals. Aided by seniors Ed Diaz, Don Huckins, Bobby Robinson and Tom Adcock, the Rams disproved preseason predictions of a losing record.

Long hours of practice improved Mike Soto, Alan Greenberg, and David Ward; Ram junior wrestlers. Ed Soto was the varsity's only sophomore for the 1969 version of the Wrestling Rams. A promising junior varsity squad also had a successful season. John Hollon and Ken Blye were the coaches of the championship team again this year.

The production of an annual that would bring credit to both the staff and Coral Park was the major goal for this year. The combined efforts of the staff members, under the direction of Mr. Gerald Stone, are here for you to see. The staff consisted of 13 members with Gail Kallins, editor-in-chief.

Publishing a yearbook was not the only achievement. They participated in planning the Florida Scholastic Press Association South District meeting held at Coral Park. Members attended journalism courses held at Miami Dade Junior College. In March, two members attended the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Meeting in New York.

The Ram's Band sounds like a best seller.

Under the direction of Mr. Stanley Dulimba the Coral Park Band participated in half time shows for every football game.

The band held four concerts throughout the year: the Christmas concert, New Year's Concert, an Awards Concert, during which awards for an outstanding performance were given, and the Senior Concert which was conducted by seniors, and all major parts, such as solos, were played by seniors.

This year three Coral Park band members were accepted into the Jazz Band of the University of Miami; they are Steve Shenkman, Ron Fried, and Barry Himmelfarb. On January 5th, the band performed at the Orange Bowl Pro Playoff.

The Senior Board sponsored many activities. In the fall, a senior button was given to each senior. A Sweet-heart Banquet-Dance was held in March and in April, the Senior Class Picnic at Grenold's Park was held. Other activities that the Board sponsored were: compiling of the Last Will and Testament, Senior Take-Over Day in May, distribution of caps and gowns, holding of Class Night, and giving of a class gift. Sponsors were Miss Susan Smith and Mr. Robert Grimes.

Under the direction of Mr. Douglas Crawford and Mrs. Roberta Shevin, the Junior Board planned two of the most important social activities of the year.

During the month of February, Junior Board committees took orders for the Annual Valentine's Day Rose Sale, and on February 14, the roses were delivered to the homerooms.

The biggest event the Junior Board organized was the Junior-Senior Prom, a formal affair held late in the Spring.

Under the supervision of Mr. David Smith and Mrs. Carese McConnell, the Sophomore Board planned a three year project to landscape the school.

The past year was spent organizing committees for the different tasks. These committees were formed to find out where to get the plants and how to plan the trees' position so that they can be changed if the school expands or constructs new exits or entrances.

The purpose of the varsity cheerleaders is to help promote spirit. They led cheers at all football and basketball games and supported other sports such as wrestling and track. A spirit week for the football team was sponsored by the cheerleaders. They made booster badges for the football team to wear during games.

Other activities in which the cheerleaders participated were; the annual luncheon for alumni cheerleaders, the sending of personalized Christmas cards to the various high schools in the county, and a traditional dinner with the Southwest cheerleaders prior to the Southwest-Coral Park game. Miss Saralee Smith sponsored the cheerleaders.

Their voices were raising school spirit from orientation to graduation.

Swift as the wind, gay
as the birds, the majorettes swayed to the rhythm of the band.

Active and graceful, the majorettes were the center of attraction everywhere they performed. Under the direction of Miss Wynn Brown, the majorettes participated in all half-time football shows. They marched in several parades, including the Optimist parade, the University of Miami Homecoming parade, and the Junior Orange Bowl Parade. The majorettes also performed in the Pro Play-off Bowl in January. Jeanie McMahon was head of the majorettes.

Besides performing their routines, majorettes did service work. They ushered and handed out programs at the Awards Assembly and at Graduation.

The Color Guard also appeared with the majorettes at all half-time shows, parades, and pep rallies.

The Coral Park Chorus had a very active year. In the fall, the chorus groups participated in the Honor Choir of the University of Miami. In February, they took part in the Senior High School Chorus Festival. The chorus also presented a Spring Program and sang in the Dade County Senior High Festival. They participated in the Florida State Vocal Association District Contest.

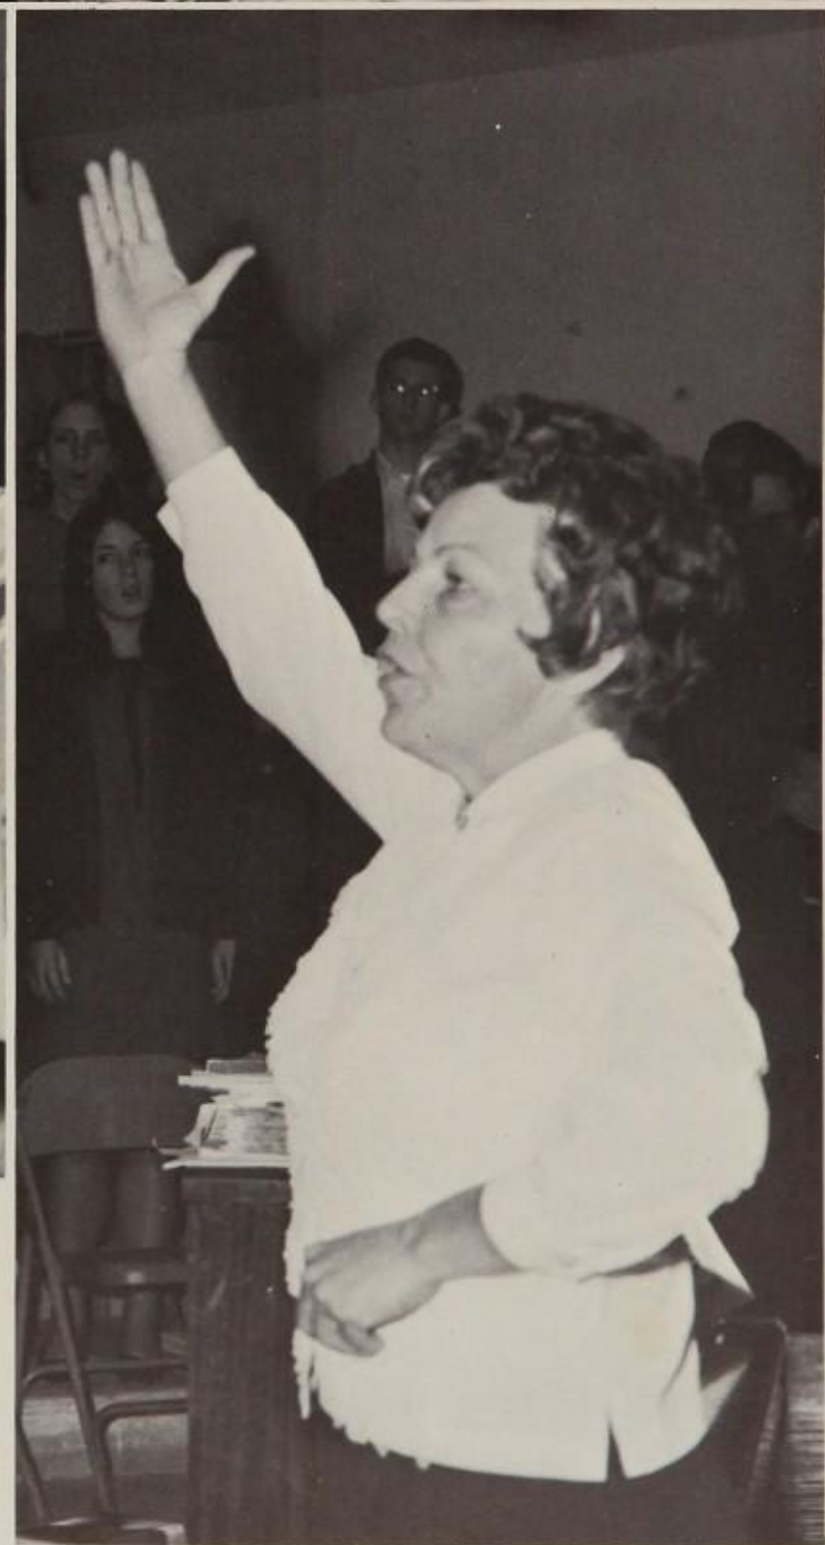

The Coral Park Chorus consists of four different groups: the Chamber Singers, the Concert Chorale, the Boy's Chorus and the Choralaires. These groups are under the instruction of Miss Joan Owen and Mr. Philip Valente.

It took more than love to make their productions successful.

The Drama Department has staged various productions this year. In the fall, two productions of Shakespeare's "Hamlet" were presented; one for the student body and one open to the general public. In December, parents were invited to witness the Shakespearian comedy "As You Like It," which was staged for two nights. Some drama students participated in the University of Miami Drama Festival, which presented Arthur Miller's "After the Fall." They also organized their annual spring production.

Outstanding members of the Drama Department are invited to join Thespians, which is the Drama's honor society. The Drama Department advisor is Mrs. Betty Lowe.

Homecoming week was the most active week throughout the school year. Preparations started a week prior to the Homecoming Game with the tricycle race in which only members of the faculty were allowed to participate. It was followed by Tie-Em-Up Day, in which everyone had to wear a tie. The Homecoming Dance was held at the Pan-Air Recreation Center. Sherri Springer was crowned queen and her Court introduced.

Dress-Up Day caught the student body in their best mood and apparel. When Senior Bermuda Day came around the seniors stood out with their colorful slack outfits.

The Inter-Club Council is a club made up of the presidents of all the clubs in Coral Park.

The club's purpose was to maintain communication between the organizations and to unite their efforts in maintaining school spirit.

Among this year's activities was a canned goods drive which was collected for charity. In the fall, I.C.C. assigned the sponsoring of the various sports to the different clubs. It was also at this time that the Interest Club Social and the Service Club Social were organized.

The National Forensic League, Debate's Honor Society, sponsors each year the sale and production of a school calendar.

The purpose of the calendar sale is to raise funds to finance the trips that the National Forensic League makes when invited to debate in neighboring schools.

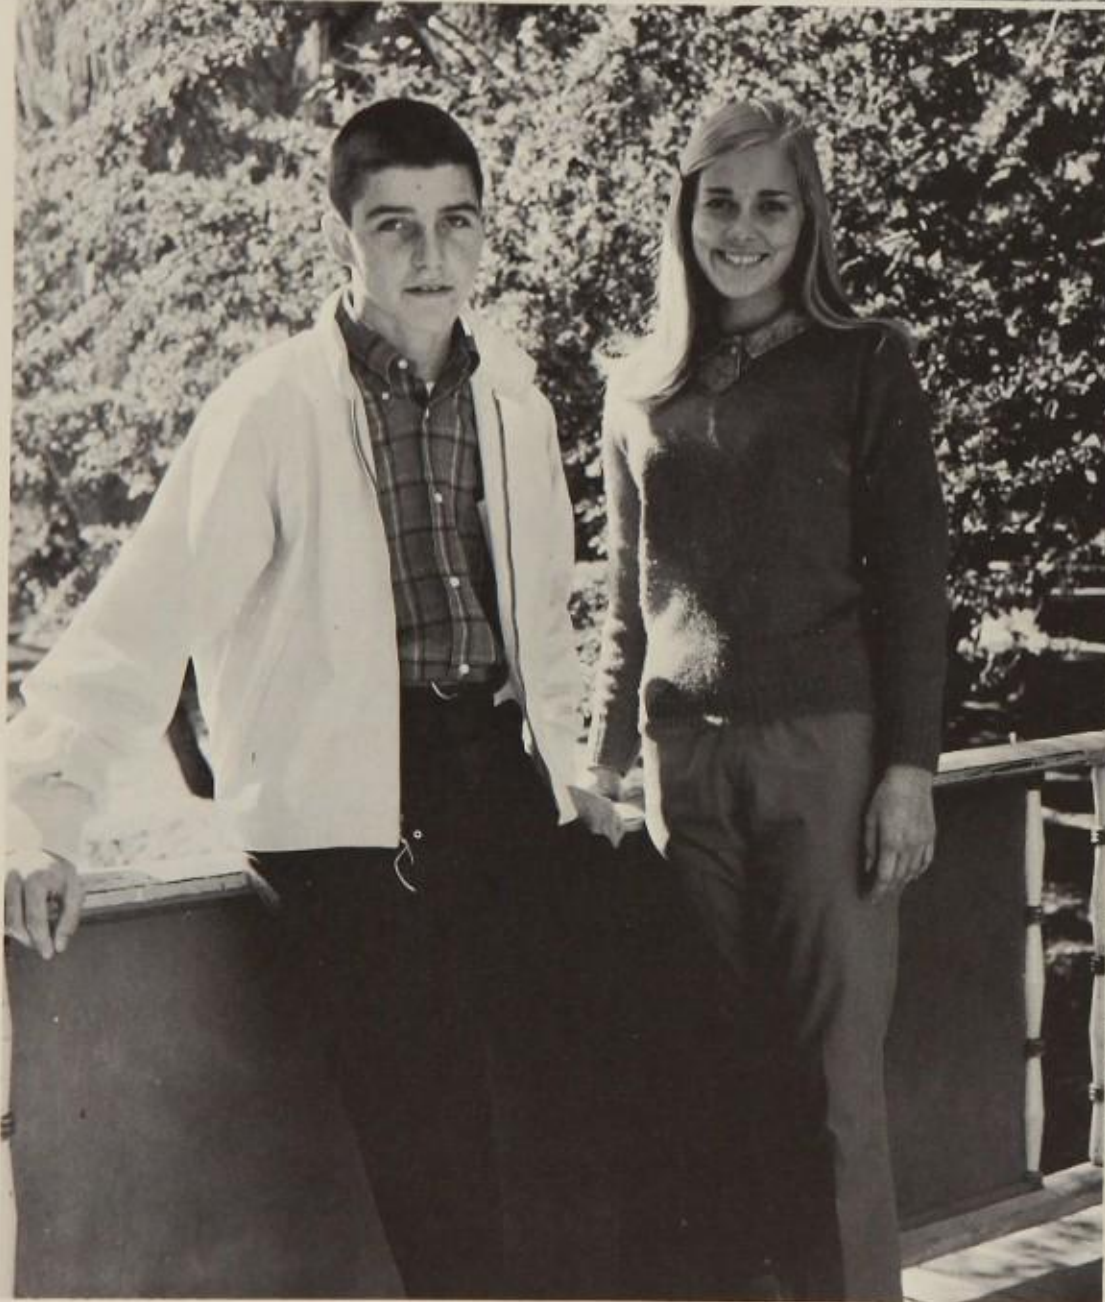

The King and Queen are elected by the student body and so are the other representatives of each month. Each homeroom nominates as many candidates as they wish paying a small nomination fee for each candidate. This year's King and Queen were Tom Carlsen and Sherri Springer.

The most rewarding part of the Coral Park Orchestra is hearing it play.

The membership requirements of the Coral Park orchestra are a liking for good music and the willingness to spend extra time mastering an instrument.

Among the orchestra's many activities was to give a children's concert titled, "Peter and the Wolf." It was narrated by Mr. Louis Heilberg and directed by the orchestra's director, Mr. Alan Matracht.

The orchestra's most important performances were the Winter Concert held at Coral Park in December and its spring concert. Many of its members were chosen to be in the all-state orchestra which qualified them to be part of the all-state concert.

It is the job of the Rampage staff to publish a newspaper every other Friday. Although the newspaper is the final product, it is not the only goal of the class. Journalism students can help students to help themselves in a way no other class can. It teaches the skills of expository writing and allows students to see their efforts on the printed page. It also gives the reporter the chance to help the school and become a school leader.

The staff planned and hosted the South District Florida Scholastic Press Association Conference on November 9, 1968, which was held at Miami Coral Park.

There is a silver lining behind their endeavors.

Recognizing the service of outstanding seniors is the purpose of the Silver Knight Award Program. Fourteen seniors, tops in their categories, represented Coral Park in the county-wide competition. The service, achievement, leadership, and character of the students are the criteria for winning the award. The Silver Knight Awards presentation ceremony was held at the Dade County Auditorium, May 8, at 8 p.m.

Competition was held in the following categories: English, foreign language, mathematics, science, social science, art, industrial-vocational, journalism, music, speech, drama, athletics, citizenship, and general scholarship.

Communications was the "in" thing this year and so the Student Council's greatest task was to create better communication between the student body and faculty.

In order to accomplish this task, the Student Council held briefings Tuesday mornings. Each homeroom had a representative who voted in all important issues concerning school rules, thus every student was represented and informed of the changes being made.

Under Miss Jacqueline Eads' direction, the Student Council sponsored other activities such as Orientation Day, Homecoming ceremonies, dances, and assemblies.

There were times when we thought that nothing would get done on schedule. People became impatient with each other. We waited around to rush and often wound-up being the last ones out of the building. But we succeeded despite last minute crises.

As editor I'd like to thank the following people: the purveyor of our best ideas to other yearbooks, the moustached little man who we couldn't have done without, the gigglers, the M & M kid, Mr. Percise (sic), the most likely to have an ulcer, the quiet ones, the mark of Zorro, the sports writing camera bug, the three-year veteran, the second most likely to have an ulcer, the Turtle, and (most of all) our favorite uncle.

Hail Kalline
